

Reds Threaten to Boycott U.N. Talks On Disarmament

Soviets Call Debate Waste of Time If West Pushes Its Reduction Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(AP)—The Soviet Union today threatened to boycott the U. N. disarmament talks if the United States and its allies insist on pressing Western arms reduction plans.

Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin said "the Soviet Union will not participate in such a waste of time."

Opening the disarmament debate in the General Assembly's 99-nation Political Committee, Zorin rejected the Western proposals as a danger to peace. He accused the West of pursuing a policy of procrastination and of further aggravating international peace.

West Blamed
The Soviet delegate blamed the West for the disarmament deadlock, charging that the Western Powers were using the arms talks as a screen to cover up efforts to organize an international espionage system.

Reds Line Up Behind Fidel In U.N. Action

Attempt Again to Have America Branded Aggressor

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(AP)—The Soviet Union lined up quickly today behind Cuba's newest efforts to have the United Nations condemn the United States on charges of waging aggression against the regime of Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Valerian A. Zorin, Soviet deputy foreign minister, told the U. N. Political Committee the Cuban charges showed to the entire world that the United States was continuing a war-like policy while talking peace in the United Nations.

Zorin threw in the charge during presentation of the Soviet position on disarmament.

Military Invasion
Cuba accused the United States last night of waging aggression against Castro's regime as a prelude to a "grand scale" military invasion.

Foreign Minister Raul Roa submitted the charges to Assembly President Frederick H. Boland with a request that they be given "the fastest possible consideration."

But Manuel Bisse, Cuba's permanent representative to the U. N., told a reporter today "we are in the hands of the Steering Committee."

Steering Committee
He added he had no idea how soon the committee would meet to take up the Cuban request. Under U. N. procedure the committee recommends to the Assembly what issues to consider.

Bisse said that it would be possible to discuss in steering committee whether the Cuban charge should be referred to the general assembly.

Block Castro's Use of Shipping in Latest and Toughest Economic Move

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today banned all exports to Cuba except certain medical supplies and foods.

It also forbade sale, transfer or charter of American-owned ships to Cuban interests without specific government approval—a move that blocks the Fidel Castro regime from using American shipping for transport of supplies purchased elsewhere.

The economic crackdown is in reaction to the Castro government's seizure of more than a billion dollars of American business interests in Cuba.

It comes atop the curtailment of the Cuban sugar quota earlier this year which denied the U. S. 700,000 tons of sugar valued at about $92.5 million—sales that would have been under a U. S. subsidy of about $35 million.

Castro is expected to react to the new U. S. move by expropriation of still further American businesses.

Robert Berrellez of the Associated Press staff said in a dispatch from Havana that Castro may also:

1. Make a formal demand that the U. S. stop the embargo.

State Employees To Seek Raise

Association's Plan Would Affect 20,000 Non-Teaching People

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON—State employees will ask the next legislature and state administration for what they call a modest across-the-board pay raise of at least 10 per cent, the State Board of Personnel will told here last night.

Roy Kubista, executive of the 6,500-member Wisconsin State Employees Association, disclosed its pay plan that would cover nearly 20,000 non-teaching state employees. The total of state workers is about 23,000. State college and university teachers have announced a campaign for raises equal to 22 per cent and 20 per cent, respectively.

The state payroll runs about $10 million a month.

Kubista expressed surprise that only about 75 state workers turned out for a hearing on a new plan for the state government. None of them mentioned the general issue of pay policy until Kubista spoke. Grievances were uttered about present policies on over-

Atomic Submarine Fires 4 Missiles

Patrick Henry Returning After Submerged Tests With Polaris

WASHINGTON (AP)—The submarine Patrick Henry has "successfully" test-fired four combat-type Polaris missiles from a position about 500 miles off the coast of Florida, the navy announced today.

The firings were during an Oct. 15-18 period.

"All of the missiles went the full programmed range and landed in the planned impact area," the announcement said.

The full range of a Polaris is 1,200 miles, but the shots announced today were not necessarily all "programmed" for that range.

Deposed Turk Takes Stand

Menderes Denies He Plotted Anti-Greek Riots in Istanbul

YASSIADA ISLAND, Turkey (AP)—Ousted Premier Adnan Menderes took the stand in his own defense today to reject charges he plotted destructive anti-Greek riots in Istanbul in 1955.

Menderes, 61, declared it was his duty to support a Turkish group set up at the time that was devoted to backing Turkish claims to Cyprus.

"What is wrong with that?" the ex-premier asked.

"There were similar groups at work in Greece. It was my duty to support a countermove, to warn in speeches the Greek government and Greek Cypriot Leader Archbishop Makarios."

Dramatic Moment
Menderes took the stand shortly after a dramatic moment in the trial — when defense attorney moved for dismissal of all charges against former President Celal Bayar on the grounds that, as chief of state, Bayar was not responsible for government actions. This was the province of the chief of government, Taner declared.

Young Man Rescued From Clothes Dryer

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—A young barber, swollen, burned and bruised, was rescued screaming from a revolving electric clothes dryer in a coin-operated laundry today.

Police are trying to find out who put him there, why and who put the quarter in the slot that started the drum turning.

The barber, Amos S. Culpepper, 28, was reported in satisfactory condition at a hospital with bruises, second degree burns and scalp cuts. He was unable to tell investigators what happened.

Investigators said Culpepper, who lives five blocks from the laundry, had spent several hours earlier in the night at a tavern across the street.

(Several teenagers were questioned last week after Appleton police found a 17-year-old girl tumbling in a dryer "for fun." Police Chief Walter Hendricks warned such behavior was dangerous and could lead to tragedy.)

Pair Expelled by Reds Delay Trip Back Home

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP)—An apparent shortage of cash forced American tourists Mark I. Ka-minsky and Harvey C. Bennett to postpone today their return to the United States.

Kaminsky, 28, whose family lives on a farm near Niles, Mich., and Bennett, 26, of Tracy, Calif., were expelled from the Soviet Union last week.

Candidates Split On U. S. Strength

Nixon, Kennedy Agree on Need For Stepup in Preparedness Plan

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—reaction from the almost 10,000 Richard M. Nixon and John F. Legionnaires and townspeople in Kennedy agree there will be a the audience.

Nixon told the Legionnaires Tuesday, in a reference to Fidel Castro's Cuba, that "we will take the strongest possible economic measures to counter the economic banditry being practiced by this regime against our country and its citizens."

Critical Situation
Kennedy declared that the United States faced a critical situation created by "the steady erosion of relative American power and prestige in relation to the Communists."

He said, "We must build the military power necessary to keep our commitments and stop the next war before it starts."

Nixon said, "I happen to know, and Mr. Khrushchev knows, that we are the strongest nation in the world and we are going to stay that way."

Applause timing counts gave Nixon a little bit of the edge in the face of Communist thrusts reaching as close as Cuba.

Nixon remarked, "There will never be a dollar sign on what Americans will be able to do for defense."

The candidates, who spent the full day campaigning in Florida, didn't cross paths at the big Miami Beach Convention Hall where they spoke half an hour apart.

No Dollar Sign
The crowd applauded also when Nixon remarked, "There will never be a dollar sign on what Americans will be able to do for defense."

Even in an advanced section like the Khorazm region, the plan for mechanized cotton picking has been fulfilled by only 18 per cent," Pravda said.

Soviets Admit Lag In Cotton Harvest

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda complained about a serious lag in cotton harvesting in a front-page editorial today as the first heavy snowfall of the season blanketed Moscow.

The Communist party newspaper blamed the shortcoming in the Soviet Union's southern region on bad organization of hand-pickers and too many harvesting machines standing idle.

"Even in an advanced section like the Khorazm region, the plan for mechanized cotton picking has been fulfilled by only 18 per cent," Pravda said.

Foul Weather Revamps Ike's Travel Plans

President Spending Day of Leisure at Palm Springs Resort

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Foul weather in Denver revamped President Eisenhower's cross-country tour itinerary and put him in this Southern California resort spot today for a holiday of golf.

The president arrived late yesterday afternoon by jet airliner from Sahana, Kan., after getting word there it would be impossible for his plane to land in Denver as scheduled.

Eisenhower, on a coast-to-coast speaking tour which started Monday, had planned to remain in the Colorado capital — just taking it easy and visiting old friends — until tomorrow morning.

The revised itinerary calls for him to stay here until then and resume his original schedule at that time when he will fly to San Francisco for a major address there that evening at a meeting of the Commonwealth Club.

Favorite Spots

The program when Eisenhower left Washington Monday called for him to arrive in Palm Springs, one of his favorite vacation spots, Friday afternoon for a stay until next Monday morning. He gets today here as a dividend.

The President will stay in San Francisco tomorrow night, speak in San Diego at midday Friday and return to Palm Springs for the weekend that afternoon.

Monday he will meet Mexico's President Adolfo Lopez Mateos just south of the border at Ciudad Juarez, speak in the evening at Houston, Texas, and return to Washington Tuesday.

Kennedy Agrees To Extend Debate For Extra Hour

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy said today he is willing to extend Friday's television debate with Vice President Richard M. Nixon an extra hour.

Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, had said earlier he was against a two-hour debate, as suggested by his Republican opponent, because he doubted whether viewer interest could be held that long.

But there was some doubt whether the extension was possible now.

The fourth debate, as scheduled now, will be broadcast over the major TV and Radio networks from 10 to 11 p.m. EST. Both candidates will meet face to face in the New York studios of the American Broadcasting Co.

Car Plunges Into Lake, Man Drowns

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A man drowned when his automobile smashed through a parking lot guard post into Lake Michigan Tuesday night but his woman companion was saved by a youth who dived in after them despite 46 degree weather.

Ray Wawrzyniakowski, 46, drowned but Mrs. Eva Brelle, also 46, was saved by Chuck Beidatsch, 20, a graduate of Pulaski High School where he was a member of the swimming team. All were Milwaukeeans.

Beidatsch said he and his girl were sitting in his car on the lake front when he saw Wawrzyniakowski's automobile suddenly shoot forward and into the lake. Beidatsch jumped out, took off his shoes and jacket and jumped into the lake.

"I just kept diving at spots in the water where there were bubbles," he said. "On my fifth try I got her (Mrs. Brelle) when she came to the top. She was groaning when I got her and she was wearing a coat and pretty heavy but I managed to hold her up until someone threw us a life preserver."

Glen M. Read, 38, and his nephew, David A. Lindow, who also saw the car go into the lake, threw the life preserver and hauled the couple to shore.

Fire department rescue workers recovered the body of Wawrzyniakowski.

Beidatsch said that the Wawrzyniakowski car stopped at the country's strength is at an all-time high "will believe anything — and do nothing."

Ports in West to Be Mechanized

Union, Management Agree on Plan to Assure No Layoffs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Harry Bridges' longshore union and the Pacific Maritime Association announced agreement Tuesday night on full mechanizing of West Coast ports.

Under the six-year agreement, employers will pay $5 million annually into a workers benefit fund.

In exchange, the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union gives up all work rule restrictions on cargo handling.

The regular collective bargaining agreement on wages, due to expire in 1962, was extended to 1966 along with the mechanization agreement. Negotiations on wages can be reopened annually.

No Layoff The mechanization pact assures the dock workers there will be no layoffs, a guarantee of minimum weekly earnings, early retirement or a lump benefit at normal retirement at 65 plus additional death and disability benefits.

The weekly wage guarantee, on a 35-hour week basis, will become effective when labor-saving devices and changed methods reduce work opportunity.

U. S. Resuming Salary Payments to Laos Army

Souvanna Phouma Says Announcement By State Department Is News to Him

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The left U.S. policy in Laos "more confused, bewildering and contradictory than it had ever been before."

Gen. Williston Palmer, director of the U.S. military assistance program, announced Oct. 1 that military aid had been suspended because of the breakup of the Laotian government and its army.

On Oct. 3 the state department denied the general's statement.

Oct. 7 Premier Souvanna refused to accept the State Department denial and said U.S. military aid had indeed been suspended. The following day the state department confirmed the premier's statement.

Postpone Trial Testing State's Billboard Law

MADISON (AP) — A circuit court trial to test constitutionality of Wisconsin's new billboard law, scheduled to start today, has been postponed.

Circuit Judge Edwin M. Wilkie agreed Tuesday to the postponement and said he would set a new date for trial at a pretrial conference of attorneys in the case next Monday.

Several businessmen along Interstate 94 in Racine and Kenosha counties started the suit, contending that the new law would take property from them without due process of law.

The law enables the Highway Commission to regulate billboards along the interstate road and permits it to order removal of signs if the commission believes they are too close to the highway.

Phillip Fox, Milwaukee attorney for the businessmen, asked the postponement so he could obtain testimony from national authorities on highways.

Russian Built MIG17 Hit in Air Battle With Israeli Fighters

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — An Army spokesman said a Russian-built Egyptian MIG17 was hit in the air battle with Israeli fighters over the Negev desert today.

Two MIG17s had penetrated 10 miles into Israel and were challenged by alerted Israeli army planes in a short dogfight at 20,000 feet, he said.

The spokesman said "one of the MIGs was hit and marks of this could be clearly distinguished."

He said the Israeli planes returned undamaged.

Proposes Day Care Centers For Retarded

Kuehn Gives Views In Speech to Beaver Dam Club

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Philip G. Kuehn, Republican nominee for governor, believes that the State Welfare Board should explore the possibility of establishing day care centers for mentally retarded children.

The GOP candidate made his proposal in a speech before the Beaver Dam League of Women Voters Tuesday.

A Legislative Council committee suggested a similar program in 1958 but it never got to the Legislature.

Kuehn added: "The state has oriented its thinking around institutions without sufficient attention to the possibility of keeping mentally retarded children in their homes where most parents would prefer to have them if they could be relieved of some of the burden of their care."

Gov. Gaylord Nelson, who seeks reelection as a Democrat, also discussed welfare problems in a speech to steel workers in Cudahy Tuesday.

He proposed that the State Constitution be amended to permit borrowing for capital construction, particularly welfare buildings.

Nelson said that past administrations had avoided the constitutional ban on the state going into debt by forming dummy corporations that borrowed money but were restricted in getting loans unless they could assure repayment out of fees and rents collected on buildings they constructed.

Some Murders are Undetected, Doctor Claims in Address

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sometimes murder goes undetected, says an Ohio authority, because doctors fail to notice clues or can't bring themselves to believe a crime has been committed.

Dr. Alan R. Moritz, director of the Institute of Pathology at Western Reserve University, Cleveland, told the California Academy of General Practice yesterday.

"Doctors shouldn't all play Sherlock Holmes, but they should keep in mind the possibility of murder in obscure deaths, and call in the authorities when there is any doubt."

INTOLERANCE DEMOCRACY

During the World War soldiers and sailors were permitted to worship as their conscience dictated. Sad though it be, here tolerance ended. When it came to health matters only one method of healing was tolerated. In automatic manner, this health matter of health and bodily welfare was relegated to one system of healing, utterly disregarding the fact that the United States at large recognized Chiropractic and Osteopathy as genuine worthwhile sciences of healing and so licensed them for legitimate practice in respective states.

Thousands of enlisted men during that war were denied the reasonable privilege of having the doctor of their choice because neither the Chiropractor nor the Osteopath was commissioned for service, either in the army or navy. It is regrettable that in such a democracy as this United States, one which has set a pattern for the world at large to follow, should permit such an unjust condition to exist. — Editor Chiropractic Home.

Congo Army Stages Showy but Ineffectual Slap on Opposition

Lumumba Supporters Arrested in Plot Against Col. Joseph Mobutu

LEOPOLDVILLE. The Congo — after a reported meeting of conspirators in Kashamura's house, staged a showy but ineffectual Congolese Army officers told crackdown on what it described as newsmen they had discovered a plot against the military regime documents describing how a new coup was to be staged to restore Lumumba to power. They said of former Premier Patrice Lumumba were arrested in three noisy pre-dawn raids. They were released several hours later.

Among those arrested and briefly held in Mobutu's headquarters, Camp Leopold II, were Anicet Kasemba, minister of information in Lumumba's defunct regime; and Jason Sendwe, Lumumba's secretary of state for Katanga province.

Calm Return Sendwe was taken away after a night-long siege of his hotel by soldiers who has been staying in the hotel calmly walked back into the hotel lobby and with a soft grin told newsmen: "Col. Mobutu personally ordered my release."

Mobutu, who has been desperately trying to strengthen his position in the chaos-torn Congo, sent his troops throughout the city door.

A heavily armed group of soldiers swooped down on the city's big hotels, closing bars and restaurants and gruffly chasing patrons to their rooms.

At 1:30 a.m. three trucks with soldiers arrested Lumumba supporters in front of the Memling Hotel.

June 30. When Sendwe refused to let them in to his room, the soldiers set up machine guns in the corridor and spent much of the night screaming and pounding at his door.

Any Sign in an Election Campaign

The desire on the part of many people to forecast the outcome of an election is such a fascinating thing that it carries them to all sorts of extremes. Every day the news has examples of new formulas, new signs, new indications that people have suggested as a means of determining the outcome of the present presidential election if properly interpreted.

We have had such things as the popcorn poll. Many people think that the purchasers of popcorn for some unexplained reason have all the wisdom of the total electorate and are willing to express it if given an opportunity in the popcorn polls. There are a great many other polls, some of which are scientifically planned and may give some inkling of the public mind at the moment that it is taken. The fact that people change their minds frequently tends to make such polls something less than 100 per cent reliable.

For the more immediate pre-election forecasters there are certain counties in the nation which have long records of going as the nation goes. The state of Maine has lost its glamor in this field and so people are turning to a smaller unit which they believe to be indicative.

At the moment some people are watching Hudson, New York. This little city is on the bank of the Hudson River about 100 miles above New York and some 30 miles below Albany. It has a long record of having cast its votes in about the same percentage as the total vote cast in the state of New York for presidential candidates. It has likewise been fairly reliable in predicting the outcome of the New York governor's contests although there its record is less than perfect.

It is pointed out that the population of this city was 11,417 in 1910 and it is 10,995 in 1960. It has not varied more than a few hundred in the intervening 50 years. It originally was settled by Quakers in 1783 and there is still a Quaker meeting place there. About the Civil War time the Irish came in and they were followed by Italians and Poles some two or three decades later. Now there are three Catholic churches in the town and Presbyterian, Methodist, Dutch Reform, Episcopal, Lutheran and Baptist churches. There also is a small Jewish group in the city. It is not contended that the people of this community never have changed their minds politically. Rather it is held that they go along with the trend that is general throughout the state. Thus they arrive at the same conclusion at the polling place as the entire state.

It is said that in 1940 and 1944, Hudson voted for Franklin D. Roosevelt as did New York state. In 1948, when Thomas E. Dewey carried the state by a narrow majority over Harry S. Truman, Hudson also went for Dewey, giving him 51.4 per cent of the vote. In 1952 and 1956, Hudson swung behind Eisenhower and the state did also. In the gubernatorial election during the past 20 years, the city of Hudson went along with the state in 1942, 1946, 1950, 1958 and in those elections the percentage of Hudson vote was never more than 4 per cent off of the statewide division.

However, in 1954, Hudson came within 1.7 per cent of the statewide division of the vote between Averell Harriman and Irving Ives. In that election Hudson went for Ives even by a very small majority while the state went for Mr. Harriman by a mere 7,000 votes. Thus Hudson although apparently a very good barometer has one record of failure and thus no one knows when it might be off again. However, there are many people in New York and elsewhere who will be ready to put their money down on the outcome of the national election this year as soon as they learn what happens in Hudson.

What Goes on in Laos?

The rhyme, reason and results of the revolution that has been sputtering in Laos for several weeks seems no closer to understanding or solution. The United States is directly concerned, not only because Laos might be lost to the ever-eager Communists, but because we have poured a considerable amount of military aid into the little Asian nation.

Premier Phouma, who took over after an army coup last month, is supposed to be a "neutralist" which means different things in different places. In Laos, apparently, it is intended to bring peaceful coexistence to the right-wing counter revolutionaries who claim a lot of advances, and the Reds who get their orders and advice from North VietNam. But now, to add to the confusion, Premier Phouma has had a warning from the Meo tribes.

The Meo tribesmen, descendants of early settlers in Laos, live in the hills, wear red sashed black uniforms, and raise poppies for opium. Members of the tribes have been fighting on all three sides in the recent conflict but one of their kings has announced they are going to get together and secede. Premier Phouma has laughed it off and says the king will come to Vientiane to straighten out a purely tribal misunderstanding.

The United States' official reaction to all this has been just about as chaotic as the Laotians. Some U. S. Army officer announced that U. S. aid was being stopped. The Voice of America reported it as a fact. Hastily it was denied by the State Department. Then Premier Phouma said the aid had stopped and the U. S. Embassy in Vientiane did not deny it. Now the Department of Defense agency for international security has sent two experts to Laos to try to determine who is for whom and why and what we ought to do about it.

The manufacture of opium is not illegal in Laos. Apparently a lot of people have been having a pipeful too many. Or maybe everyone concerned needs an extra puff or two.

Who Saw Lindy?

When Charles Lindbergh made his famous lone flight across the Atlantic more than 33 years ago, he came down out of a fog bank over the open water. A fleet of fishing boats were below and he swooped down over one and asked whether he was on the right road to Ireland.

Irish International Airlines is using the experience for an advertising gimmick to publicize the beginning of their jet flights across the same stretch of ocean. They are trying to find some of the men who were in those curraghs and who yelled back at Lindbergh.

A Mrs. Michael Sullivan, who now lives in New York, has come up with one clue. Some men in County Kerry were discussing the incident, she remembers.

"They saw the plane and thought it was Ghandi coming to get them," she says. "They were frightened. When the pilot shouted for directions, one man finally said 'yes.' Then the plane flew away."

Even correspondence with the parish priest in that little area of Kerry may not discover the men. But the episode suddenly has made the early air age one of nostalgia. Can the riders of modern jets, zooming a thousand miles an hour, 30,000 feet above the ocean imagine dipping down to ask a lonely fisherman the way to land?

Poets Will Even Work if Necessary

BY HARRY GOLDEN

If you press hard enough, most men will say yes, they like their work, or at least they've grown used to it. But no one likes his work like a poet. A poet will do anything to keep on writing poetry. Some times he'll even go to work.

One of the professional fatalites in our modern world has been the poet. You don't meet many of them anymore. But when I was a boy on the Lower East Side of New York there were thousands of poets. They were everywhere — behind pushcarts, standing at work benches, delivering coal. Every one was a poet. There was a market for poetry in those days. The Yiddish press published hundreds of poems and part of the ceremony in a Jewish wedding or an old-time Bar Mitzvah was an extempore poem.

Poet at Weddings
The most famous of the Yiddish poets was Eliakim Zunker who worked for a printer in Rutgers Square. Zunker plied his poetry strictly at weddings. He had a supreme talent for standing up and rattling off a poem.

Around the turn of the century he was a man about 70 years old and not particularly prepossessing. His clothes were always stained with ink and so were his fingers and his beard. But he had a high hat and when someone was getting married he took off his printer's cap (which is made by folding a newspaper into a square box) and put on his high hat and he became presto: a Shakespeare. Everyone on the East Side recognized him. There were countless women who knew his verses by heart and to them he seemed as romantic as Lord Byron had seemed to Victorian ladies several decades earlier.

Another famous poet was Morris Rosenfeld, a tailor, who wrote a poem a day and managed to get it published in some newspaper or other. Rosenfeld had been in England when news reached him that the cloakmakers in New York City had gone on strike. He booked the first boat over expecting the millennium. But when he reached New York, and found no millennium, he turned to poetry. He was a superb tailor, but he would work only for men who could quote verses of his poems.

First Beatnik
Another of the East Side bards was Abraham Wald who might well have been the first beatnik. Wald used to mount soapboxes to read his poems. He didn't work. He spent every minute of his time in cafes drinking tea and eating cake which people brought him in exchange for some of his doggerel. He had no home and slept whenever weariness overtook preferring, like the beatniks today, not to sleep at all.

These poets have disappeared: first because we live in an age of specialization and poetry is a fulltime job now just as tailoring is; and second because Yiddish is a dying language (along with Greek and Latin, it is now being taught in some colleges).

Protests Care of Animals at Appleton's Monthly 'Pig Fair'

Editors, Post-Crescent:

I was amazed to read in Monday night's paper what a "thing of beauty and a joy forever" the sweet scented Appleton pig fair is. I am sure "pig" stands in most minds as anything but sweet smelling.

I am a lover and protector of animals and for the past 15 years I have been coming to the "fair" to see what was being brought to sell, often to buy before I left. However, far from being a beautiful nostalgic assemblage such as Jean Otto and the photographer have portrayed, it is a blot on the city of Appleton.

The odor that spread many blocks on a hot day did not arise from the fresh produce which is wonderful to see and buy and should not be discouraged if your merchants do not mind that loss of business. (They surely do not gain business from these people who bring in anything to make a few pennies.)

Did Mrs. Otto, and the photographer ever attend the "fair" on a hot day to see those same darling puppies, kittens, fluffy rabbits, chickens, guinea pigs, and pigeons lying or standing in their own filth? Have they seen the animals nearly dead from the heat, crowding, and lack of fresh water to drink?

Do you think they or anyone else could confuse the odor that arises and spreads over your beautiful city, to offend residents and visitors, with the delightful smell of vegetables and honey? I doubt it.

We all think back to the days now gone and remember but memory exaggerates. We are disappointed to see the reality — much less smell it.

Let's not get nostalgia confused with the Appleton pig fair — or the abuse of small helpless animals because of man's greed and thoughtlessness.

A child's delight and amazement at the sight of small animals is wonderful to see but short lived. I don't think kindness and love for living things is learned or gained by the abuse and neglect of a live pet. Too often thoughtless parents purchase pets for children only to have them forgotten and discarded as a child discards a plastic toy. In only a few days many of the animals, if they are not dead, are taken to the humane society.

Continue the "fair" as a vegetable and fancy work outlet if you will. But in the name of decency and humanity let's do away with the barter of living things. People who raise birds and animals to sell have a market for them. They do not have to bring them to the "fair" to reap a few cents or "scents" as you will.

I doubt that the health department of any city would condone what takes place in Appleton on the last Saturday of the month. I hope that nostalgia will come to mean more to Mrs. Otto some day than seeing or smelling the "pig fair" as you permit it to exist in your city.

Mrs. Dorothy Worzalla
Neenah

(Mayor Clarence Mitchell said today a copy of Mrs. Worzalla's letter has been turned over to the city health department with orders for a complete investigation of her charges. The department has been instructed to report on the matter to the city board of health. — ED)

Tumbling in Dryers Is Trespassing, Dangerous

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I read with disappointment the enclosed item in the October 14, 1960 issue of the Post-Crescent.

I would like to make myself clear in that I own and operate laundromats in Appleton and New London, but this incident did not occur in my store.

The first disappointment is with the Post-Crescent in publishing an item of this kind in their highly respected paper. I have always maintained that in the past they have been for up-right law enforcement and training of the teenagers. Surely with sneer remarks and headlines for fun this will encourage others to attempt the same thing.

The second disappointment concerns the highly respected Appleton Police Department which has been very cooperative in regards to curbing teenager's vandalism and misdeemeanors. There should be no question in anyone's mind, especially the police department, as to what to charge these youths with.

Looking Backward

A New Broom Can Sweep Clean

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Oct. 20, 1860.

We have before us two notes, the burden of each of which is: "Why do you, Mr. Editor, hold the whole Republican party of this city responsible for the acts of a small portion who claim to belong to our party?"

In reply, we ask: Can it be possible that any one has mistook the language we have felt called upon to use in condemning the conduct of a portion of our opponents?

We have not held the whole Republican party responsible for the acts of the fanatics and rogues in its ranks, although we do think those of our opponents who mean to do as they would be done by should be the first to condemn the bad actions of their political associates.

Is it not time for moderate Republicans to shake off the yoke put upon them by the drones, the drag weights, the fogies and fanatics who profess their political creed and who have all along and even now control and direct the Republican party movements in this city and county?

We leave the matter with them to decide as conscience dictates. If they care nothing for the interests and welfare of city and county, let them remain indifferent. If otherwise, let them act like men.

State Legislature Has Lost Several Good Men

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The attrition of politics already has removed some familiar faces from the prospective roster of the 1961 legislature.

Some prominent members failed to satisfy their constituents, and fell as casualties in the primaries. Some have been detoured into other fields of politics, including a couple of judgeships bestowed by Gov. Nelson upon men he regarded highly. An unusual number of 1959 legislators, a few of them veterans of considerable standing and usefulness, retired voluntarily.

The number of voluntary retirements emphasizes a point that has been little realized—that legislative service no longer is as available to ordinary men as it used to be. The increasing complexity of the legislative process, and the increasing duration of the sessions, has foreclosed Madison service to men who must be concerned about their private and business affairs at home. The constituent may remark that the duration of the legislature is something that the legislature itself controls, but the individual cannot control it and therefore the individual occasionally is sacrificed to the inertia of the institution.

RICE AND GRAASS

Two deans of the legislative chambers who are retiring as elderly men are Ora Rice of Walworth county and Frank Graass of Door and Kewaunee counties.

Both men could have been returned to their assembly seats if they had desired, according to their election records. One wonders whether they might not have run again, under different political circumstances. Both are conservatives, and men with a laundry are trespassing and loitering. So I trust that the police department will take the necessary action in dealing with these youths to stop such incidents.

I am sure I can speak for the owners and operators of any laundry store that we extend an invitation to the citizens to use the other facilities found in these laundry stores providing they are used with respect and with the intentions for which they are established.

Last, but most important, is the fact that someone is apt to get seriously hurt or burned in these dryers, as the temperature is 180 degrees. Then it would not be so great as quoted in your last sentence of the enclosed item.

deep sense of public responsibility.

Warren Grady of Port Washington, one of the younger leaders of the Republican persuasion in recent years, proposed this year to elevate himself from the assembly to the senate, but the voters in his district thought otherwise. He fell in the primary.

Howard Pellant, a professional labor organizer in Milwaukee who turned in his state salary to his CIO union and kept his union salary during sessions, passed up a chance to stand for renomination and reelection in a safe district in order to run for the office of vice president of the AFL-CIO of the state this year. He failed, and thus has ended his state-house political career. He was best known last year as the chairman of the assembly conservation committee.

Robert Curley, also of Milwaukee, was one of the most promising of the younger Democrats last year. Gov. Nelson gave him a judgeship in appreciation for his political services, as well as his acknowledged intellectual attainment. Assemblyman Arnold Cane of Menasha, a Republican, also quit in favor of a judgeship granted by the Democratic governor.

Assemblyman Harvey Abraham of Oshkosh, another stalwart Republican assembly veteran, retired this year under curious circumstances. He has told friends that he expects some day to return to the political arena, which has led to the guess that he hesitated to stand in the way of young William Steiger, son of Karl Steiger, Mr. Republican in Oshkosh, who has succeeded him on the Republican ticket.

The lucrative legislative seats are those held by the Madison delegation. Madison men spend only a few hours at their tasks, being absolved of travel and over-night stays downtown. But Assemblyman Richard Cates, a capital city first timer and one of the ablest freshmen in years, didn't care for the work and retired to his law office.

SENATORS

Two Republican senators of considerable prominence also decided to return to the quiet of their private lives. W. F. Trinke, one of the most persistent and repetitious orators in recent capitol history but one of the best liked men in the legislature for all of that, has returned to the considerable comforts of his private business and his extraordinary mansion on the scenic Lake Geneva shore.

Harold Huihregste of Plymouth, ideologically the most conservative of the 1959 Republican majority, found the demands of legislative service more than he had bargained for when he ran four years ago. A hard-headed thinker, an utterly honest man, he is the kind who enriches the legislative system but is comparatively scarce.

Advice to Young Lovers: Speak Lowly, Quickly

From The San Diego Union

One of the best bets towards a happy marriage is proper voice tone. This is the opinion of a researcher named Gordon Shipman who was employed by the University of Wisconsin.

Voice culture, Shipman suggests, should be undertaken before marriage for these reasons:

Happy couples, it seems, include wives who have better modulated voices in normal conversation as well as arguments than their husbands.

Unhappy couples, said Shipman, display a marked difference between the partners' speech thresholds. One triggers easily into speech and the other more slowly.

As we attempt to analyze this information all we can say, to young lovers everywhere: Speak low, but quickly.

Low Bidder Is Firm City Rejected Once

Penterman-Brown Bids Again on Storm Sewer Work

The apparent low bidder for a city storm sewer construction job is the same firm which was turned down Sept. 20 by the board of public works which claimed the firm was irresponsible.

Penterman and Brown Excavating Contractors, 2700 N. Richmond St., submitted the low bid Tuesday of $29,128.15 for work on portions of 10 streets on the city's northeast side. Its bid was about $3,000 less than the next lowest.

Motion Lost

On Sept. 20 the firm bid on other storm sewer work on the northeast side, but the contract was given to the next lowest bidder, because the city engineering department claimed Penterman and Brown did poor work and did not follow specifications.

The firm's attorney threatened the city with legal action to get the first contract, but the letter was received and filed with no discussion.

At Tuesday's board of public works meeting one member asked for reading of the names of bidders. He then moved rejection of the Penterman and Brown bid without opening, because "the quality of their work has not improved."

The motion lost for lack of a second.

All bids were referred to the director of public works for tabulation and the board will make a decision next week on the contract.

Projects List

Criticism of Penterman and Brown's work in September resulted from a job the firm did as a subcontractor for Floyd Acheson Excavating Co., 2637 N. Richmond St., while laying storm sewer on Northland avenue.

The firm said its entire workmanship should not be judged by the one job and claimed Acheson would not allow the work to be done according to specifications.

Bids received Tuesday were for storm sewer on Longview drive, from Ballard road to Bay street; Bay from Longview to Pershing street; Pershing from He'llen to Hillwood; Owasassa and Ullman streets from Pershing north one-half block; Ameia street from Ballard to Crestview; Crestview from Ballard west 630 feet; along an easement between Bay and Helen streets; and an extension of Linzmeyer ravine sewer.

Holy Name Society Installs Officers

Installed as officers of St. Mary's Holy Name Society Sunday were Robert Zwicker, president; Kenneth Muihaupt, vice president; John R. Long, secretary; and George Leary, treasurer.

On Nov. 13 society members will receive communion together at the 7:30 a.m. mass and then have a breakfast and meeting in the school cafeteria.

Optimists Plan Week on Youth Appreciation

Plans for the Appleton Optimist Clubs Youth Appreciation week will be completed tonight at meeting at the Appleton Public Library.

The objectives of the project are to recognize the accomplishments of youth in the home, school and church community, to promote more active participation by families in family affairs, to encourage public display of appreciation for youth, to provide the proper environment and recreation and social activities for youth, to encourage parents to rededicate themselves to the responsibilities of parenthood to illustrate the influence of religion on youth and to encourage a broader interchange of ideas between youth and adults.

Nov. 14 to 20 has been set aside as Youth Appreciation Week. Clarence Kennedy, of the Breakfast Optimists, and Will Olson, of the Noon club, are co-chairmen. Civic leaders from PTA groups, schools, the YMCA, Boy Scouts, churches, press and radio also will attend the meeting.

Undersheriff Job Abolished

Brown County Third in State To Follow Move

GREEN BAY (AP) — Brown County became the third in the state Tuesday to abolish the position of undersheriff and create the post of chief deputy which will be under civil service.

The County Board, by a vote of 15-18, followed the lead of Portage and Racine counties.

The present undersheriff will serve until Jan. 1 when the office of chief deputy will be activated. The undersheriff has been appointed by the sheriff for many years.

Under the new system the county board will set up the examination for the post, determine the qualifications for the job and the salary.

The plan to abolish the undersheriff's post failed by one vote before the County Board in August.

At the present time the undersheriff's post is filled by William Rogers Rogers is a Republican candidate for sheriff in the November election. The undersheriff's post has a $6,240 salary in Brown County.

Man Who Visited Land Of Long Lives to Talk To Fox Cities Group

Dr. Alvin E. Bank, Kearney, Neb., who rediscovered a tiny kingdom in the Himalaya Mountains where people live long and healthy lives, will speak to Fox Cities Optimists at a luncheon at the Conway Hotel next Wednesday noon.

Fox Cities Optimists also at the 7:30 a.m. mass and then have a breakfast and meeting in the school cafeteria.

Dr. Bank tells of the people of Hunza who probably owe their long lives to diet. His trip to Hunza was financed by Art Linkletter's "People Are Funny" television program.

Republican Women Plan Coffee Hours

The Outagamie County Federation of Republican Women will hold two more coffee hours this week as part of the "Coffees for Nixon" project throughout the nation.

Mrs. C. J. Schroeder, 837 E. College Ave. had the first coffee hour Monday. The others this week will be at 2 p.m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. William H. Ward, 225 E. Byrd St., and at 7:30 a.m. Friday at the home of Mrs. R. A. Raschig, 124 Oakcrest court.

As Milwaukee Argues

Outagamie CD Cost May Hit Record High

As Milwaukee prepares to argue the validity of civil defense, Outagamie County has a tentative budget four times any previous year and the first real civil defense program in its history.

Milwaukee has about the costliest civil defense program in the United States and a special city council committee is studying the $250,000 annual cost to see if it is a "hoax" or a vital valid phase of municipal operations.

Outagamie County's budget committee has okayed a $15,000 budget for civil defense compared to last year's $3,800 — a figure which remained constant since the civil defense item was started four years ago. Appleton pays 25 percent of the cost.

Training Program

Main portion of the Outagamie County civil defense budget is a training program. Lee Penny, who was named county and Appleton CD director after a year or so of backing and filling by the city and county, has set up a $6,540 training program which depends on a great deal of voluntary activities. His salary adds $4,800 to the budget, to make almost the entire amount.

Penny wants to spend $1,350 for auxiliary police equipment and $2,650 for training men. He wants to train 200 people in basic civil defense material for $500, give first aid training for $500, offer mass feeding training for $800 and train radiological instrument operators for $150.

Much of the money Penny asks will go to volunteer instructors.

Valley Engineers To Meet Thursday In Fond du Lac

The October meeting of the Fox Valley Society of Industrial Engineers will be Thursday in Bernard Hall, Fond du Lac.

Speaker will be Les Sebora, manager of the Menasha Canal Street plant of Marathon Division American Can Co.

His topic will be "The Human Relations Factor for Industrial Engineers and Production Supervisors."

The 7 p.m. dinner will be preceded by a cocktail hour.

Franklin PTA to Hear Talk About Safety

James Murphy, Franklin School principal and chairman of the public schools' safety committee, will speak to the Franklin Parent-Teachers Association on safe travel after a school open house at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Officers of the PTA for 1960-61 are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chase, presidents; Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Garey, vice presidents; Gordon Matson, treasurer; and Miss Jo are DeGroot, secretary.

Music Parents to Begin Year With Potluck Supper

The Music Parents of Appleton Public Schools will begin the school year at 6:30 p.m. today with a potluck supper at the Appleton High School cafeteria.

The AHS band, directed by Frank Comella, will give the demonstration. It will present at the state teachers' convention in Milwaukee next month.

Officers of the organization which includes music teachers and parents of music students at all the public junior and senior high schools are Mrs. George Weiland, president; Mr. and Mrs. Franz Larson, first vice presidents; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nissen, second vice presidents; Mr. and Mrs. Art Jepson, secretary and treasurer; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Roelofs, assistant secretary and treasurer; Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Franch, executive committee chairman; and Mr. and Mrs. James McIntyre, hospitality chairman.

The group promotes and helps to finance school music programs.

Industrial Engineers Set First Meeting

Robert A. Dimberg, manager of industrial engineering, Allen Bradley Co., Milwaukee, will speak at the first meeting of the newly organized Fox River Valley Chapter of the American Institute of Industrial Engineers at 7 p.m. next Wednesday at Bernie's Supper Club.

Dimberg, who attended Lawrence College, is a national vice president of AIEE and industry representative on the University of Wisconsin Engineering School Planning Committee.

However, there is an exception—the United States will honor its commitments for wheat and wheat flour shipments under the International Wheat Agreement.

Two U. S. government agencies issued the formal orders in the new crackdown on Castro. The commerce department issued that imposing the partial embargo on exports and the Maritime Administration the one dealing with shipping.

The export order forbids shipment of farm products "eligible for subsidy payments or stocked by the Commodity Credit Corp."

Border Between Jordan and Iraq To be Reopened

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — The border between Jordan and Iraq, closed since the Iraqi revolution in July 1958, will be reopened to normal traffic tomorrow, the Jordanian government announced today.

An official statement said that air transport plus cable and wireless communications between the two countries also will be resumed. The communications minister in Amman, Anwar Nasha-shibi, will telephone his opposite number in Baghdad, Hasan Talbani, at 8 a.m.

Jordan severed relations after the revolt in Iraq, which had been linked to Jordan through a union between King Hussein and King Faisal. The two monarchs were cousins. Faisal was killed in the revolt.

Chinese Communists Say U.N. Controlled By United States

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China today repudiated the United Nations in its present form, charging that it is controlled by "U.S. imperialism" and incapable of securing world peace.

"The people of the world should in no way place their hopes for their liberation and for world peace on the United Nations which is dominated by U.S. imperialism," said the official Peiping People's Daily.

"To work for the realization of general disarmament, to strive for the peaceful coexistence among countries with different social systems, to win and uphold national independence and to fight for a lasting peace in the world, it is necessary to rely upon the strength of the people to struggle resolutely against the policies of aggression and war of U.S. imperialism," the paper said.

The U.N. voted early this month against discussing the question of seating the Communist People's Republic of China.

3-Hour Struggle to Save Workman Buried In Deep Trench Fails

METROPOLIS, Ill. — (AP) — Three big earth moving machines and more than 100 volunteer workers struggled vainly for three hours yesterday to save a workman buried when a 23-foot deep trench caved in.

The victim was Carlton Caldwell, 52, of Brookport, Ill., a plumber. He was working at the bottom of the ditch, dug in soft earth, and two other workers were above ground when the walls slid in.

More than 450 yards of earth were moved in the vain attempt to save Caldwell's life.

assembly directly, or to one of the assembly's committees.

He said if the committee recommended against consideration of the complaint, Cuba would fight this on the floor of the assembly.

With the request was a memorandum citing the recent capture of three Americans executed for their part in an expedition that landed in Oriente province, the alleged dropping of bazookas and other arms in central Cuba by a four-engine plane with U.S. markings and other developments in U.S.-Cuban relations.

The memorandum said the Cuban government had information these were part of a plan for a big invasion "in the coming days," and that such an invasion could lead to a "conflagration of unimaginable proportions" — an obvious reference to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's promise that Soviet rockets would defend the Castro government.

Atlantic Alliance Postpones Opening Session for Wedding

PARIS (AP) — The Atlantic Alliance decided today that defense and political problems must give way to romance.

The NATO permanent council agreed on a 24-hour delay in opening the organization's annual ministerial sessions in December.

The foreign, defense and finance ministers of the 15 member countries will begin meeting Dec. 16 instead of Dec. 15.

The reason: Dec. 15 is the wedding date of King Baudouin of Belgium and Dona Fabiola de Moray Aragon.

Malayan Chief Will Visit United States

LONDON (AP) — Tungku Abdul Rahman, prime minister of Malaya, left by air today for goodwill visits to the United States and Canada.

He first goes to Toronto for a six-day visit as the guest of Canada's Prime Minister John Diefenbaker. Then he will spend 13 days in the United States. In New York he plans to confer with U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld on Malaya's proposals for settling the feud between Indonesia and The Netherlands over the ownership of West New Guinea.

Controversies Arise In Lutheran Convention

Final Debate on Nuclear Weapons Testing, Capital Punishment Scheduled for Tonight

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — The original resolution calling The 22nd biennial convention of for "peaceful cooperation and the United Lutheran Church in competitive coexistence with the America braced itself for a long Communist world" was sent back and perhaps bitter session today to committee by the convention as as final decisions neared on the not being anti-Communist enough. A second draft, to be voted on tonight after lengthy debate, asks for "peaceful competition where peaceful cooperation where funda-mental principal is not com-petal punishment are scheduled to promised."

The Rev. William B. Downey, delegates representing 2,500,000 of Fox Point Lutheran Church in Lutherans from 4,600 congrega-suburban Milwaukee, tied up de-bates in the United States and bade on the nuclear testing resolu-tion Monday when he urged a na-national policy to roll back commu-nist advances.

"This statement finds peace so alluring as to forsake the en-slaved, and survival so dear as to forsake justice," he said. He denied claims of opponents that the only alternative to peaceful cooperation was war.

Aid Other Nations

Adoption of the original state-ment, prepared by the church's board of social missions, was urged by the Rev. Dr. O. Freder-ick Nolde, dean of Lutheran Theo-logical Seminary, Philadelphia, who is regarded as the leading Protestant authority on interna-tional affairs.

The statement also calls for as-sistance to economically under-privileged nations to attain higher standards of living and support of living bonus allowed for years to the United Nations with more serious consideration being given to the formation of a permanent international security force.

time, classification, promotion and other details of personnel admin-istration.

The union spokesman said the state has been busy "catching up" with private industry on payroll policy for years, but had not yet managed to do so.

He said the state should face the reality that economic deflation is not likely, and that the cost of living bonus allowed for years to state workers should be incorpora-ted into the basic pay scale. Such a move would permit a considera-ble boost in overtime payments.

Tanker Crashes Carrying Seven Airmen to Deaths

LANGLEY AIR FORCE BASE, Va. (AP) — A jet tanker, on a night training mission crashed on a marshy shore near here Wednes-day night, carrying seven crew-men to their deaths.

Witnesses said the six-engine KB50-J tanker caught fire almost immediately after takeoff from Langley and was enveloped in a sheet of white flame when it came down with a roar that shook hous-es miles away.

The seven bodies were removed at the crash scene on the edge of Plumtree Island.

The giant tanker was attached to the 427th Air Refueling Squad-ron, 4505th Air Refueling Wing, of the tactical Air Command.

Plans for the 1960-61 Season were discussed at a meeting of the Menasha Church-Industrial Basketball League Tuesday night. Left to right are Dr. E. T. Hansman, Trinity Lutheran; William Anderson, Strange Paper; Bill Pagel, Banta's; recreation director Bob Vanevenhoven; and Al Haack, Menasha Macs. The league will attempt to complete plans at another meeting next Tuesday.

The league schedule is split between three days with Winneconne playing at Denmark Thursday night. Wrightstown will be at

Pennings Back Retains FVCC Scoring Lead

Rottier Posts 24 Points; Blanked In League Finale

MENASHA — His team has completed its season but Ray Rottier of De Pere Pennings still leads the Fox Valley Catholic Conference scorers with 24 points.

Rottier, who tallied three touchdowns against Marinette Catholic two weeks ago, was blanked by St. John last Friday — as was the entire Squire team.

Teammate Larry Schmidt, still game slates, will find Neenah ranks second with 19 points on Saturday in a game with three touchdowns and an extra point.

Third currently belongs to Dan Bittner of Fond du Lac Springs. Bittner, who tallied three touchdowns against Marinette Central Catholic to boost its total to 18 points.

Bill Becker, Mike Roemer and Paul Walbrun, all of St. Mary, and Ray Vandenberg, St. John, are tied for fourth with 12 points each.

St. Mary has one more league game — against Marinette here Sunday. Springs plays St. John at home and meets the Dutchman as well as St. Mary.

Junior Zephyrs Play Holy Cross For League Title

MENASHA — The champion of the Catholic Boy League will be decided at 4 p.m. Thursday when the St. Mary graders and Holy Cross of Kaukauna clash at the Jefferson Park grounds.

The Kaukauna eleven goes into the contest unbeaten while St. Mary has only a tie to mar its record. The Junior Zephyrs have four wins. Thursday's game will close their season since they drew a bye during the final week of play.

The Merasians attempt to annex their first championship since 1954 when the current group of high school seniors was eighth graders.

Quarterbacks Set 5th Weekly Session

NEENAH — The fifth weekly session of the Neenah Quarterback Club at 7:30 p.m. tonight at the Whiting Boathouse will feature a talk by Richard "Bud" Lowell, Oshkosh, nationally-known football and basketball official.

The appearance of the seniors, an annual club feature, also is planned tonight. The players will answer questions submitted by the audience.

Menasha Cage League Plans Third Meeting

Little Decided at Second Session; 8 Teams Represented

MENASHA — The Menasha Church-Industrial Basketball League met for the second time Tuesday night, decided little and will meet again next Tuesday night in a further attempt to iron out the situation.

Eight teams were represented at Tuesday's session at the Memorial Building. They were Strange's, Banta's, Marathon, Trinity, St. Patrick, Gilbert Paper and St. John of last year's league and the Menasha Macs.

Central Paper and St. Mary were present at the first meeting a week ago but did not have a representative Tuesday night. Central will have a team while St. Mary has indicated it would not.

Discussed were the possibility of two leagues, an open and church industrial circuit, or a 2-division league. Three or four teams indicated Tuesday they would be willing to play in the same league as the Macs but after thinking it over, several reported to Recreation Director Bob Vanevenhoven this morning that they didn't feel they were in the Macs' class and voided the idea.

Last year the league operated with 10 teams, all church or industrial, and the players had to be employed by the firms they represented or members of the church for which they were playing.

Vanevenhoven explained that two years ago when he had two leagues one of the open league teams would play an industrial circuit representative each week, the scores were listed with the open team always winning and the end result was a large number of forfeits.

He hopes to form an open league which would include the Macs and others teams of that calibre plus a church-industrial wheel as last year.

Nov. 5 to Dec. 11 at Lakewood, close at midnight Thursday.

Pheasant Season Prospects Bright, Warden Tells Club

MENASHA — Prospects for the pheasant season — which opens Saturday — look better than last year, said Conservation Warden A. J. Dunham, who told the Twin City Rod and Gun Club at its monthly meeting Tuesday at Germania Hall.

Dunham said that a goodly number of birds have been reported along the road and that the number planted in the county last spring was sizeable.

He warned the hunters that to be sure to have their guns loaded and checked when being transported in an automobile.

The warden declared that he never has seen as many "no trespassing" and "no hunting" signs as this year. He pointed that on their land and years ago they now have posted on the west side of Rice Lake, especially on the south side.

Property Damage

Reasons for the posted signs include property damage, gates left open and several cases of members, who died last week.

Sellnow Sets Pace In Neenah League

Hits 640 Set; Walsh Clouts Runnerup 635

NEENAH — Wally Sellnow bashed a 640 series to capture top honors in the Neenah City Bowling League Tuesday night at Muench's Recreation.

Sellnow was over 200 in all of his games but yielded singleton honors to Dan Kuehl, who cracked a 244.

Harold Walsh rolled 635 and Bill Schmidt had 602 for other 600-plus scores. Walsh's series included a 237 loner.

"Blondie" Pawlowski posted a 231-596. Gene Johnson 580, Bob Kuehl 558, Joe Mayefski bowled a triplicate of 151 games.

Kiefer Clothing, Schmidt Builders and Badger Oil are tied for first place with 7-2 records. Schmidt's, Badger Oil and Hewitt's won three games.

Len Neubauer of J. Werth Excavating slammed a 237 game and Don Schultz of Larsen Tavern belted a 580 series in the Lakewood.

Bowls 541 Series To Garner Honors In Catholic Loop

MENASHA — Lorraine Cooman's 199 game and 541 series were the high marks in the Catholic Women's Bowling league Monday afternoon at the Mid-Town Lanes.

Lois Pozolinski tallied a 191 singleton. Rupp Plumbing owns a 2½ game lead with its 15-3 record.

No honor totals came out of the women's league Tuesday. Those attending include Alice Tap won three games and has a 14½-3½ man. Ellen Poellinger, Linda Berne, Karen Boehm and Rita Buck.

Student Librarians Attend Workshop

NEENAH — Seven Neenah High School student-librarians and Charles Buck, high school librarian, are attending the Student Librarians' Workshop at Oshkosh State College today.

Those attending include Alice Tap won three games and has a 14½-3½ man. Ellen Poellinger, Linda Berne, Karen Boehm and Rita Buck.

Starting End on the St. Mary football squad, which closes its Fox Valley Catholic conference schedule Sunday against Marinette Central Catholic, is Dave Schmidt, a senior letterman.

Evelyn Hanson's 571 Paces Tuesday Wheel

June Trumbell Crashes 224; Ann Rasmussen Posts 529 to Lead Kitchen Dodgers League

NEENAH — Evelyn Hanson powered a 571 series in the Tuesday Night Ladies Handicap League at Lakewood Lanes. Bowling for the Club Sherry team, she posted games of 212 and 192.

Singleton honors went to June Trumbell of the Schmidt Drug team with a 224. She closed with a 525 count.

Other honor totals included Bev Mikich 204-518, Donna Terrian 205, Marcia Long 504, Ruth

Red Cross Plans Training Session For Volunteers

NEENAH — Neenah and Menasha Red Cross Chapters announced today a training session for volunteers will be held at 1:30 p.m. Friday at Menasha Library. Mrs. Don Morrissey, Appleton, Red Cross volunteer field consultant, will conduct the orientation period.

Volunteers are needed for Grey Ladies and staff aids at Winnebago State Hospital, where an active program of Grey Lady service has been conducted since 1953. New classes are trained each year. Orientation periods are scheduled at the hospital for Nov. 4 and 11. Interested persons can contact the local Red Cross offices.

Nordlander Favors Tax Supported Buses For Parochial Students

MENASHA — Robert E. Nordlander, Democratic candidate for assembly, said yesterday that he favors the use of public tax funds to transport parochial school children to their schools.

Speaking before a gathering of Neenah - Menasha Democrats at the Hotel Menasha, Nordlander said that parents of parochial school children help support the public school system and therefore are entitled to the fringe benefit of bus transportation for their children whenever walking distances are prohibitive.

Speeder Forfeits

MENASHA — Miss Cleida J. Egert, 116½ W. Wisconsin Ave., Neenah, forfeited $14 at the police station for speeding 40 miles an hour on Washington Street at 62.50 a.m. Tuesday.

ord. Smile Inn, Valley Airways, Wanserski's and Larsen Tavern all are tied for first place in the second section with 11-7 marks.

Ann Rasmussen of the Richmond Cleaners team topped a 194 game and 529 series to make a sweep of laurels in the Kitchen Dodgers circuit Tuesday afternoon at Lakewood.

Barnett's and Richmond's are tied for second with 11-4 record by one game with its 13-5 record.

Winchester Church Marks 110th Anniversary Sunday

WINCHESTER — Grace Lutheran Church here will celebrate its 110th anniversary Sunday with a special service at the church. The name of the church was changed in 1943 from United Lutheran to Grace Lutheran Church.

Pastor during the week-long centennial celebration in 1950 was the Rev. Marvin A. Ryan. Three years later came the construction of the new $9,000 educational unit and several years ago was added a new sanctuary.

Malmin Olson 11 Enter Ministry

Special services on the theme "Building Temples Eternal" will be held at the church. The church was founded Oct. 23, 1850 by a group of Norwegian-Americans who came here to settle and that had considerable work in the area and natural grass. The settlement at Winchester and an adjoining parts to the east was known in the early days as the Neenah Settlement.

Other services came and a church there was organized in 1850. The church was organized in 1850 by a group of Norwegian-Americans who came here to settle and that had considerable work in the area and natural grass. The settlement at Winchester and an adjoining parts to the east was known in the early days as the Neenah Settlement.

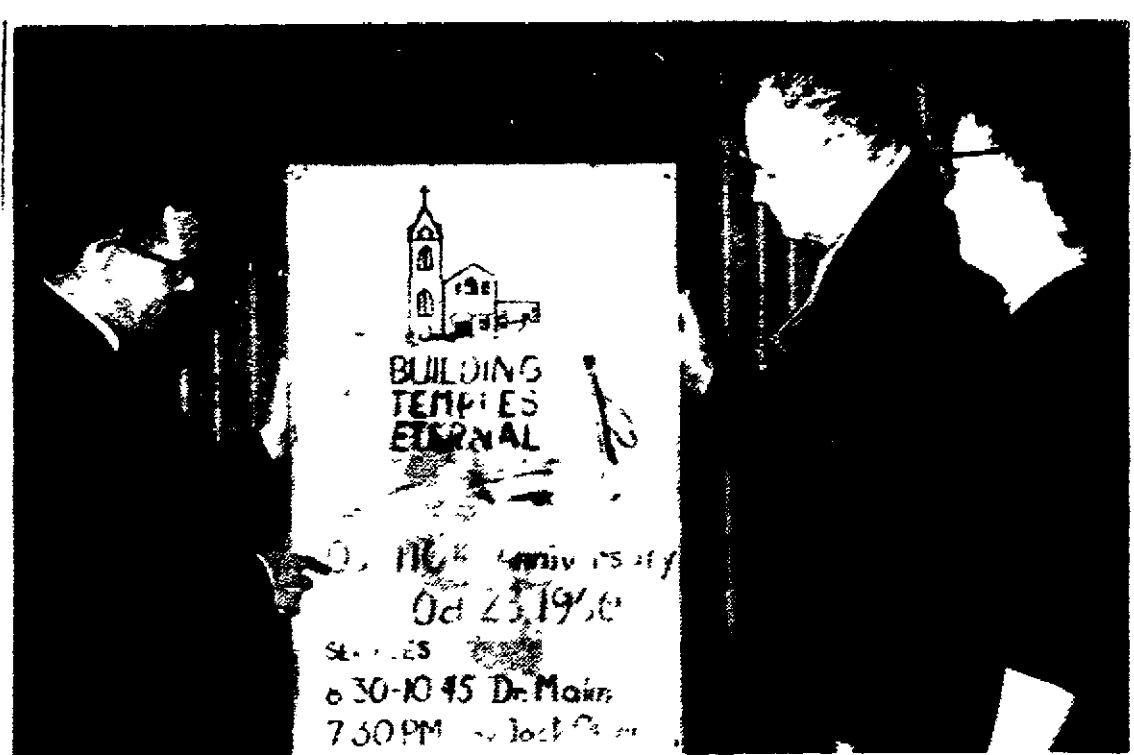

Met in Barn

On Oct. 23, 1850, a group of Norwegian-Americans met in a barn to organize a church. The church was organized in 1850 by a group of Norwegian-Americans who came here to settle and that had considerable work in the area and natural grass. The settlement at Winchester and an adjoining parts to the east was known in the early days as the Neenah Settlement.

Union Delegate

The Rev. O. J. Norn was elected as the union delegate at the time of the golden anniversary in 1950 and two years later the group decided to build a new church which was dedicated May 15, 1954.

The Rev. H. J. Madland was pastor at the time of the 75th anniversary in 1925 and has returned to the church. He is now employed at Neenah mill of Kimberly-Clark Corp. delegation.

Rezone 2 Lots for Menasha Grocery

MENASHA — Two lots, at 758 and 754 Racine St., were rezoned Tuesday by the city council from residential to local business.

At the public hearing called for the rezoning petition, no one appeared.

The property at 758 is William Wenzel's grocery store. He plans to expand his building to the south lot, which is owned by his mother-in-law, Mrs. Anna Rosen.

The grocery had existed before the city zoning ordinance was enacted, and the business was considered a nonconforming unit. The expansion now requires assuming conforming status.

Homemakers Clubs Schedules Meeting, White Elephant Sale

ALLENVILLE — The Progressive Homemakers Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Louis Jensen, Sunday, Oct. 23, at 11 a.m. on Oct. 27. Mrs. come. The married couples will be at 8:30 p.m. today at the church.

Taking part in Laymen Sunday at the Community Baptist Church Sunday were Louis Jensen, Curtis Combs, Earle Armstrong, Chester Smith and the Rev. Glenn Harms.

The Senior BYF will hold a parade Sunday evening, beginning at the Arden Winklerwerder at 11 a.m. on Oct. 27. Mrs. come. The married couples will be at 8:30 p.m. today at the church.

Scout Troop 56 Gives 14 Awards

MENASHA — Fourteen awards were presented Monday at the annual Court of Honor of Boy Scout Troop 56, St. Timothy Lutheran Church.

The annual charter was received by Pastor Robert Jacobson from George Machelvie, neighborhood commissioner.

First and second class badges went to Bob Smarzinski and Steven Stevenson. Second class badges also were awarded Bob Fleming, Dick Tegen and Jim Weyenborg.

Merit badges were given to George Bauman, Dick Gray, Gary and Bob Smarzinski and Jim Weyenborg. Steven Mueller and Dan Sharwell received tenderfoot badges.

Charles Buck to Attend Audio-Visual Meeting

NEENAH — Charles Buck, Neenah High School audio-visual coordinator, president of the Valley Audio-Visual Directors' Association, will attend a meeting of the group Tuesday at Green Bay.

Other officers of the group are James Green, Neenah High School Green Bay vice president and H. Pete Bries, audio-visual director of the Appleton Public Schools, secretary-treasurer.

Admits Wills Of 2 Twin City Businessmen

Theda Clark Hospital Shares in Estate of Harrison A. Smith

OSHKOSH — Wills of two prominent Twin City businessmen were admitted to probate Tuesday by County Judge Herbert J. Mueller. The values of the estates have not been determined.

Harrison A. Smith, formerly of Menasha and later of Marathon Shores, Fla., died in April in Florida and ancillary probate of his estate was asked.

Smith, a former president of Wisconsin Container Corp., of Menasha, divided his estate into two trusts, one of which shall go to Theda Clark Memorial Hospital for its permanent endowment fund after the death of his widow. The other trust goes to the widow and of a late brother, Evald Jersild; of his stock in the Jersild Knitting company to a grandnephew, Carl Jersild, Menasha; and monetary bequests to the late Rev. P. G. Rasmussen and the children of a nephew, Howard Jersild, who are Carl, Jeanne and Nanette Jersild, all of Menasha.

The balance of his estate is to be divided into one-seventh shares which are to go to the heirs of his brother, Evald Jersild, his sisters, Esther Bleecker, Eva Dyreby, Hulda Kalfahs and Rigmor Thomsen, all of Neenah, and the heirs of his nephew, Howard, who will divide a one-seventh share.

A petition for administration of the estate of the late Harold B. Mennes, Neenah superintendent of schools who died in England Aug. 12, listed his estate at over $10,000 in personal property and over $10,000 in real estate. His widow and a son, Paul, both of Neenah, are the heirs.

Day Chairman Urges Study Of UN Agencies

Y-Teens to Collect For UNICEF Instead Of Trick or Treat

NEENAH — Citizens of the United States have realized in 1960 as never before that the United Nations is the business of each person. Miss Grace Mc Lay, executive director of the Neenah-Menasha YWCA and United Nations Day chairman, said.

Oct. 24 marks the 15th anniversary of the founding of the United Nations.

Miss McLay urged that work of special agencies of the UN be studied since so little attention is given them.

One of these agencies is UNICEF. On Oct. 28 the local Y-Teens are planning a collection in connection with UNICEF Halloween Churches observing the UNICEF Halloween include Congregational Church, Menasha First Presbyterian Church and Fox Valley Liberal Religious Fellowship, Neenah.

Women's Clubs including the AAUW Business and Professional Women, Zonta, YWCA and United Church Women are promoting the sale of UNICEF Christmas cards.

Each year the Bettina Theta Rho girls of Betty Rebekah Lodge sponsor a girl for a trip to the U.N. Lana Schlem, Menasha, won the trip last year.

C. W. McLean, regional economist with the Food and Agriculture Organization of the U.N., will speak at Lawrence College Friday in connection with U.N. Day.

Decision on Island Defense Not Timely

Quemoy, Matsu Should Not be Aired on Television

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON — The "debate" on television between the two presidential candidates may be spectacular but, as a device for really informing the voter about the meaning of what the speakers are saying, it is confusing and inadequate. The people are not given the background of the issues.

What should the audience have been told to enable them to understand the Quemoy and Matsu issue? It isn't too late to bring to their attention essential facts. Here are some of them.

On Oct. 1 Sen. Kennedy was asked this question:

Do you agree, Sen. Kennedy, with the present policy in which it seems to me we are committed now to the defense of the tiny off shore islands off the coast of China — Quemoy and Matsu?

The United States has never been committed to the defense of those two islands at all times but only to their defense if related to an attack on Formosa. The islands have been continuously bombarded for five years without American intervention. The policy of the United States as laid down in a resolution passed by Congress, declined to define the line of defense exactly but purposely left it undefined.

Sen. Kennedy, however, in his answer to the above question, said he would change the existing policy laid down by the President and Congress.

But during the second round of the "great debate", the audience wasn't told that Sen. Kennedy would reverse the doctrine which the President, the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff and Congress had adopted in 1955. Sen. Kennedy repeated his view as follows:

"I believe that if you're going to question it, it's the principle. Both houses of Congress had against armed attack, this would be made in a television 'debate'. It ought to be on a unimportant... it's the principle. These two islands this issue up in January 1955, and authority to include the securing base" in the middle of a political long as they (Quemoy and Matsu) are in the area of freedom. The efforts were made by a minority and protection of such related political campaign? Wouldn't it be better to draw the line and keep Quemoy and Matsu out of the defense area? Sen. Kennedy was in taking of such other measures he and let the President make a final decision on the basis of all facts available at the time? If you have to fight an enemy, the answer is that he cannot and that this type of controversy doesn't belong in a political campaign either.

ing Formosa and the Pescadores. Why should a decision of this kind be made in a television 'debate'? It ought to be on a unimportant... it's the principle. Find Missing Child in Car presidential candidate for more than a half century.

An Associated Press survey of the best available political opinion at this time gives three counties to Vice President Richard M. Nixon and three to his Democratic rival, Sen. John F. Kennedy. Two are regarded as undecided.

No Big Issue

If this division represents a true picture of the national situation, the contest between Nixon and Kennedy could rival that of 1916, when Woodrow Wilson beat Charles Evans Hughes by a little more than 600,000 popular votes and 275 to 254 electoral votes.

With the election only three weeks away, there appears to be no overriding issue. Foreign policy, farm prices and Kennedy's Roman Catholic religion are among matters voters mentioned. But no clear trend was established.

In usually Republican New Hampshire, Coos and Stafford counties have voted for the presidential winner every four years since the turn of the century.

Editors Disagree

In Coos, which gave President Eisenhower nearly a 2-1 margin over Adlai E. Stevenson in 1956, the editors of two Republican weeklies said Kennedy looks like the winner. An independent weekly editor called it for Nixon, but said it would be extremely close.

Clinton L. White, editor of the Coos County Democrat, a Republican weekly, said Kennedy's religion would help him carry the county.

Two weekly editors rated the Stafford County race as a tossup, another listed it for Kennedy and a fourth for Nixon. Eisenhower carried the county four years ago by a 3-2 margin.

Kennedy Gaining

In usually Republican Indiana, Nixon was credited with the lead in bellweather Vanderburgh County but Kennedy was reported gaining. Eisenhower took the county 4-3 in 1956.

A continuing man-in-the-street poll, conducted on the streets and shopping centers in Evansville by radio station WJPS gave Nixon 47.6 per cent of the prospective vote, Kennedy 41.96 per cent, with the remainder undecided.

In the Midwest farm belt, Iowa has two counties that have been on the winning side in this century.

The folks in Jasper County seem to favor Nixon. In Palo Alto County the race is regarded as inconclusive but favoring Kennedy.

Results Inconclusive

Results of polls and surveys by the Newton Daily News and the Associated Press in Jasper County gave Nixon 50 per cent, Kennedy 37 per cent and 13 per cent undecided. Eisenhower had a 9-7 advantage in 1956.

The Emmetsburg Reporter and Democrat tested sentiment in Palo Alto County. Kennedy routed Nixon out of the lead in a straw vote but by such a thin margin that the results were inconclusive.

In the county Eisenhower barely nosed out Stevenson four years ago.

In Wyoming, Albany County, in which is located the city of Laramie, is regarded now as Nixon territory. But Kennedy was reported gaining strength there. Eisenhower carried it about 4-3.

Sentiment Not Jelled

Republican leaders conceded that Kennedy is ahead in Laramie County, in which Cheyenne is located. Eisenhower carried the area by only about 500 votes in 1956.

In Oregon, Crook County, which Wisconsin through a subsidiary has been right on presidential can-National Food Stores, said the didates since it was founded 78 bakery business will be operated years ago, is up in the air. Ed under the name of Heinemann tor E. S. Donnelly of the Central Foods, Inc.

Oregonian said, "Sentiment just Heinemann Bakers has 34 re doesn't seem to have jelled yet." tail outlets in the Milwaukee area Eisenhower won it by 74 votes with an annual sales volume of four years ago.

Man Likes Treatment In Federal Prison, Tries to Get Back in

SHELBY, N. C. (AP)—Stough Greene, 53, who likes the treatment accorded prisoners in federal institutions, will have to settle for another 30 days in Cleveland County jail.

Federal Judge Wilson Warlick continued judgment for 30 days against Greene, on charges of tossing blazing cotton into three mail boxes. When arrested in September, Greene said he wanted to get back into federal prison because "they treat you good." He once served a term in a federal prison camp.

Greene previously broke glass panels in the door of a post office, but a judge held it was public property and not federal property and he had to spend a time on the roads rather than go to federal prison.

Judge Warlick said after the 30 days are up he may dismiss charges in the mail box incident since Greene will have been in jail two months by then.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy has ordered special training courses to sharpen the perception from friendly and unfriendly of radar men aboard "electronic sources will sound and look like intelligence" ships and planes. The radar men are being taught also to quickly distinguish between ra- the "type of vehicle from which dar beams from unfriendly and the signal can be expected to emanate." This presumably means whether the radar beam sary in deciding whether a plane coming from an approaching or ship has come under the radar search of a Communist, Allied or U.S. transmitter—and whether counter-radar equipment should be opened up to frustrate the searchers.

Taxpayers 65 and older have been entitled to special benefits for several years. They can deduct all medical expenses, within certain broad limits, whereas younger taxpayers can deduct only those medical bills exceeding 3 per cent of their taxable in- come.

Internal Revenue Service officials said today they are design- ing the new form to comply with a law which Congress passed al- most without notice nearly six months ago.

New Tax Form Ready for Aged

WASHINGTON (AP)—Starting Jan. 1, taxpayers who are 65 or older will have to file a special income tax form in addition to their regular return if they want to claim deductions for medical expense.

Internal Revenue Service officials said today they are design- ing the new form to comply with a law which Congress passed al- most without notice nearly six months ago.

The form also will be used by those who claim deductions be- cause they pay the medical bills of dependent parents or parents-in-law who are 65 or older. The first knives in 2000 years with a cutting edge that's NOT STEEL!

Robeson Flame Edge

with WAVY FLUTED Edges

You never sliced it so good! Ripe tomatoes, hot bread, overdone roasts are no problem to slice as thin as you want with a Robeson Flame Edge Knife. That's because: One side of the cutting edge is tungsten carbide, the hardest metal known, de- tonated onto steel at 10 times the speed of sound, at a temperature of 6000 degrees. As the edge of steel wears away, more and more of the Flame Edge is exposed— more and more of the tungsten carbide's microscopic teeth are bared to keep the knife razor sharp.

Handles are brown ShurWood with contoured grip, impervious to heat and acids. Knives individually packaged.

Time Honored Sport of Wrestling Changes Rapidly to Silly Drama

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The noble art of crushing heads and things, under the title of "wrestling" is time honored, for it dates back to at least 3,000 years ago. It is one of the oldest of old forms of physical combat and was once honorable.

Pictured on the walls of the temple-tombs of Ben Hasan, near the Nile, are huge thugs depicted using wrestling holds that are still employed by today's behemoths. By these, wrestling is dated to at least 3,000 years before the Christian era.

But the ancient artworks do not show the employment of such gentle maneuvers as are employed by today's groaners. No eye gouging. No leaping feet first in pretended fury upon the throat of a fallen opponent. No friendly groin-kicking. No amiable pinching, choking, hair-pulling, finger-biting.

For is there shown any punching in the mouth? Strange to say, the ancient art of wrestling has changed from an honorable method of combat to a silly, peurile show staged by dramatists instead of by athletes.

Changes Overnight

The art has changed in a few decades from a contest of strength, skill, speed and durability to one of mock anguish, mock rage, magnificent injustices, cowardice and cheating. To this, nobody seems to object except perhaps the Boy Scouts of America.

After so many years, wrestling has changed literally overnight as time is measured. One wonders why.

It is faintly possible that there are a few people who do not realize that most wrestling bouts are contrived; that the winner is decided beforehand, and that the details of his defeat are simply and plainly dramatic ballyhoo. Wrestling is usually a production in dramatics and not an athletic contest. Nobody cares.

Approximately 3,000 huge fellows are professional wrestlers this year. They wrestle dramatically if not fraudulently for it is no more "crooked" for a wrestler to fall out of the ring than it is fraudulent for Red Skelton to do a pratfall.

Most of the matches are planned. Sometimes the contestants are told beforehand who is to lose and by what hold. Often the wrestlers decide the victor between themselves.

It is a rewarding profession. Many gladiators wrestle as often as six times a week for fees which range (for preliminaries) from $75 to $100 a match. Big name wrestlers are paid a percentage of the gate. And the majority of the "big name" wrestlers are fat, paunchy and bald—and very, very naughty in the ring. It is rewarding to be evil, cowardly and under-well — else why such great numbers of green artists who use every imaginable means of being disliked even before they step into the ring.

It is unlikely that the wrestler who calls himself "Count Dracula" seeks the adulation of the crowd. Dracula enters the ring and is horrible to look upon. For him, there is immediate hatred and awe. He is going to cheat!

Skillful Coward

Joe, who never—surely—won a bout because of manly strength or skill, wears long, long hair and strives to look like a Gypsy, is, in a private life, a likeable and quiet fellow of Italian extraction. Joe's real name is Dorsetti and he hails from Detroit. His skill is in his dramatic display of cowardice.

Joe is only one of many who don an evil aspect for the purpose of stirring anger against himself. It pays and it pays well — else why such great numbers of green artists who use every imaginable means of being disliked even before they step into the ring.

It is unlikely that the wrestler who calls himself "Count Dracula" seeks the adulation of the crowd. Dracula enters the ring and is horrible to look upon. For him, there is immediate hatred and awe. He is going to cheat!

Paints Eyebrows

To advance this theory, Count Dracula paints upon himself some horrid, vampirish eyebrows in the blackest black. Under his eyes, he paints eye shadow to give himself a thoroughly evil appearance — the look of a dæmon.

Now and then, while in the throes of battle, Dracula will sneak a large bottle into the ring with him. Plainly marked on the bottle is the legend

"CHLOROFORM." Pretending great secrecy, although he may be observed by 15,000 people, he pours the contents of the bottle on a handkerchief. This, he presses to the face of his honorable opponent who becomes suddenly limp. The crowd goes wild! He cheated! He cheated! But, alas, the referee did not see what 15,000 people saw. Evil triumphs once again.

Dracula's opponent — a clearly likeable fellow whose greatest fault is that he tries to be fair and honorable in combat — does not think the application of chloroform is cricket. He makes motions which say to all the world as he looks at the evil opponent: "Come out and fight fair, you cur!"

But Dracula will not; not ever. (Tomorrow: The naughty wrestlers of today)

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisture may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAD gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisture may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

GUESTS CAME TOO EARLY:

Friends who were moving back here after an absence of three years asked if they could spend two weeks with us until their house was ready for occupancy. We were delighted. They said that they would arrive late on a Saturday afternoon. I asked if they would be in the mood for a dinner party that same evening and we'd invite their old friends. They were thrilled. I do all my own work and getting ready for a party of 20 takes a lot of time. Without warning, these friends arrived before noon and without lunch. They brought their dog. We have a dog too and the two got into a couple of nasty fights. Needless to say, I had quite a day. Am I wrong in thinking that the arrival time was quite an inconvenience, and don't you think they should have told me they were bringing their big Doberman? The friends didn't seem to think they were inconveniencing us at all.

Miss Davis Answers:
Your friends were presumptuous in arriving so early knowing that you do your own work and had to prepare for a party. They should have slowed up considerably, making a point of arriving at the prescribed time. The least they could have done was to warn you by long distance that they were ahead of schedule. You should have been informed about the dog during the early negotiations so that plans could have been made to board either their dog or yours in a kennel. I'm sure that you made the best of a harassing and aggravating situation. After an absence of three years, a hostess doesn't shoo her guests to their bedroom for an afternoon nap just to get them out of the way until she gets her house in order and her dinner prepared.

Couple Marks 50th Anniversary
Mr. and Mrs. Ed R. Reimers, Shiocton, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Sunday when they are honored at a family gathering at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Wilbur P. Nussbaum, 318 E. Peanut-Passing Boss Thrills Young Woman Factory Worker

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: I work in a small factory and my machine is right on the aisle. This is a pretty special spot because I get to smile and say hello to everyone who passes.

A few months ago a smooth-looking foreman was transferred to this department. He passes our section several times a day and often stops for a few minutes and talks to me. Lately he's gotten into the habit of offering me peanuts.

He's not married and neither am I. Do you think this thing about the peanuts means anything? Please tell me how I can get him to ask me out—Irish eyes.

Dear Irish: I knew a very nice man who used to buy peanuts for the monkeys at Lincoln Park Zoo every day for years. So far as I know he never asked any of them out. Have a small, informal get-together at your home and include Peanuts. If he doesn't ask you out after that there's not much more you can do.

DEAR ANN LANDERS I know

We signed up for a mail-order art course for our son. It cost popular teenage idols. I fall for us $415. They sent us about $25 clergymen, doctors and school worth of art supplies. The boy teachers.

mailed in three lessons and decided he didn't like the course. We had to pay the full amount while our kids went without milk and shoes.

Don't suggest we see a lawyer. There's nothing we can do to get our money back. We tried. Don't think American citizens should be protected against such rackets? What is a government for anyway? We are really disappointed in Uncle Sam.—Really Took

Dear Took: Why take it out on Uncle Sam? The government can't put brains in your head when you've got oatmeal up there.

Parents who would shell out $415 on a mail-order art course when they haven't got milk and shoe money are plain daffy.

Some mail order courses are perfectly O.K. and offer real opportunities for people who can't attend school. Others are two steps ahead of the sheriff.

The federal government and local Better Business Bureaus are constantly investigating borderline outfits. But no government or bureau can protect people against their own stupidity. This is strictly a do-it-yourself project.

A Lovelier You
By Mary Sue Miller

How to Wear Glasses

For girls who think their glasses look frowsy, here are tips that make them look wow-zy: Glasses actually flatter the face, when the shape of the frames counteracts a feature you could do without. For example, a winged frame softens a square jaw.

It's a myth that glasses limit your choice of hairstyles and hats. If all three are suited to your face, they complement each other—and you, so do wear the most flattering hairstyle and hats you can find.

Frames become a smart accessory when they are co-ordinated in color and type with your wardrobe. At least two pairs are needed for this play: one for everyday wear, trim as a slick suit; another, dainty or elegant, for evening occasions.

All glasses call attention to the eyes. Consequently, your eyes should always look their loveliest. And that they will after a subtle application of shadow and mascara, after a thorough grooming of the brows.

However becoming and handsome, glasses must be worn with a deft touch or they will appear dowdy. The "do's" for deitiness follow. Do be sure your glasses sit straight and leave your eyebrows fully exposed. Do insert the ends of the temple pieces under your hair so as to avoid wisps. Do adhere to a hands off policy—fiddling with glasses betrays doubts about them. Do keep your glasses sparkling clean—the better to see and be seen!

The Eyes of Youth
You are not lost to youthful beauty because of dark circles, puffiness, or wrinkles around the eyes. These problems can be brought under control by proper skin care cosmetic applications, health habits and facial expressions. Methods are detailed in my leaflet, "The Eyes of Youth." To obtain your copy, write me in care on your newspaper, enclosing 10 cents in coin and a large, self addressed, stamped envelope.

Soapsuds Tree Grows in Barbados

Do you know that in Barbados, West Indies, there are soapsuds trees? They reach heights of 60 feet and bear clusters of berries which produce a thick lather when shaken in water.

The Barbadians are naturally very clean people. However, even with their handy stock of soapsuds trees, they still prefer the convenience and quality of manufactured soap and detergent products.

Legion Auxiliary Hears Area Reports

Mrs. Melvin Maynard, James Davis, Lena Luniak, Fred Gehrke, Milton Teske, Sylvester Lynch, Gordon Simon and Frank Schiedermayer reported on the area fall conference of American Legion Auxiliaries held Sept. 28 in Antigo at the group's meeting Monday evening at American Legion Clubhouse.

Aprons, mittens, handkerchiefs, dolls, toys and money were brought to the meeting, and will be sent to Veteran's Administration Hospital, Wood, where hospitalized veterans may select a gift for their families. The articles chosen are then gift wrapped and mailed to the recipients. The service is free to the veterans. Anyone wishing to contribute may contact Mrs. Gordon Simon, rehabilitation chairman, before Oct. 22.

Wedding Rite Unites Couple

Miss Joan Rickert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Rickert, route 4, Appleton, exchanged wedding vows with Ronald Semrow at 10:30 a.m. today, St. Nicholas Catholic Church, Freedom, was the setting for the double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Alfred Hietpas. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Semrow.

Miss Marge Rickert, Freedom, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Wilmer Semrow and Miss Patricia Peterson.

Vernon Weyers, Madison, attended the bridegroom as best man. The bride's and bridegroom's brothers, David Rickert and Wilmer Semrow, were groomsmen. Guests were seated by Ronald Springstroh, Freedom.

Mrs. R. Semrow

and James Hamister. Patrick and William Rickert, brothers of the bride, were acolytes.

Dinner, a reception and dance are being held at Van Abel's Restaurant, Hollandtown.

After they return from a wedding trip to Upper Michigan and Canada, the couple will live in Appleton.

The new Mrs. Semrow graduated from Freedom High School and Green Bay Accredited School of Beauty Culture. She is employed at Kut and Kurl Beauty Shop. Her husband also graduated from Freedom High School. He is employed at Circle Machine Co.

Sheinwold Singleton Lead Can Tell Story

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

A player who is very short in one suit is likely to have length in other suits. This elementary principle may help you in the play of a different hand.

West opened the jack of clubs, and East won with the ace. West ruffed the club return and led a heart in the hope of finding an entry to his partner's hand.

Opening lead — ♣ J

As it happened, there was no entry in hearts. South won with the king of hearts and hastily led a low trump from his hand. He wanted to draw trumps as quickly as possible.

Too Hasty

It was a case of haste making the usual waste. Declarer played dummy's queen of spades to force out the ace, and back came another club.

South couldn't shut out the jack of spades. If he ruffed with the king of spades, West's jack would be high; and if South ruffed with anything else, West would make the jack of spades at once.

Now go back to elementary principles. When West ruffs the second club, South should reason that West probably has two or three spades. East needs the ace of spades for the opening bid, but West probably has the other missing spades.

Once South thinks of this, his danger becomes clear. Upon winning the heart return, South must lead a diamond to dummy's ace in order to return a low trump from dummy.

East is obliged to waste his ace of spades on a low card. When East then leads another club, South can afford to ruff with the king of spades. South next leads a spade to dummy's queen to draw West's last trump safely.

Say Vows In Lutheran Ceremony

Miss Shirley Ann Pruess, 625 E. Atlantic St., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pruess, Manawa, became the bride of Jerry Immekus, 205 W. Spring St., at 4:30 p.m. Saturday. The Rev. Louis Winter officiated at the double ring ceremony in the presence of St. Mark Lutheran Church, Symco.

Miss Mary Pruess was her sister's maid of honor. Best man for the son of Mrs. Laura K. Immekus, Alameda, Calif., was Elroy Lathrop.

A dinner, dance and reception were held at Kellers Lake, Big Falls. The newlyweds are honeymooning in northern Wisconsin, Illinois and Michigan and will return to Kaukauna.

Mrs. Jerry Immekus

The bride-elect is a graduate of Kaukauna High School and is employed in the office of Badger Telephone Co. Her husband is a graduate of Kaukauna High School, School and Northwest Institute, Kansas City, Kan. He is employed as a salesman for Snedd-Bartus Food Co.

Extension Workers Convene in Madison

"From Today to Tomorrow" acquire a better understanding of the purposes and goals in extension conference held last week in Madison. Attending from Outagamie County were Miss Jeanette Refenske, home agent, John Powers, county agent, R. L. Luckow, farm and home development agent, and Courtney Schwartz, 4-H Club agent.

Three of the days were devoted to workshop sessions dealing with areas of the Scopt Report on an area basis. The sessions were planned in cooperation with a special committee to provide an opportunity for everyone to develop an understanding of how the division report can be used in developing and planning a future extension program.

The report was entitled "A Versity. Guide to Wisconsin's Extension Workshops for area VI, which includes Outagamie County, dealt with family living and management to accomplish were helping to ment, youth development, produc-

Man Tells Whys, Hows of Synthetics

"You gals who think that man-made fibers are something new from the test tube, really could give thanks to your grandmothers. Or more accurately, to the man who invented the self-starter for the automobile." Charles H. End Noisy Rooms With Acoustic Tile

If you're bothered by noise and clutter in your home, why not try sound conditioning one or more rooms with acoustical tiles? A popular material for this purpose is wood fiber, which offers a "boom" advantage to homemakers.

Wood fiber acoustical tiles are coated with washable paint. When soiled, just sponge them with soap or detergent suds, and rinse.

PIN-WORMS A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a storming rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...ly parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it. To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it: First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily. Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. THE BRILLIANT WOOL glows through the longest day, provides its own aura of vivacity. A smooth new drawing of wool-and-rabbit's-hair by Grabois, softly sheathed, belted and bowed with velvet. In high visibilities.

Early in the 1800's Louis Pasteur and a medical student began to study the worm itself and tried to duplicate its cellulose making process. In 1884 they produced the first synthetic fiber with the look of silk. Naturally they called it artificial silk.

British Production
The British produced it on a major scale and brought it to the U. S. During World War I there was a need for a fabric which would stay taut to be used on the wings of bi-planes. Out of this need cellulose acetate was developed. It was manufactured at Marcus Hook, Pa. A few miles away, at Wilmington, Del., the Du Pont Co., making gunpowder and using cellulose, became interested.

Rayon was developed, the term being a combination of 'ray' from the sun, and 'on' from cotton. By 1927 rayon and rayon acetate sales had surpassed that of silk.

But 1940 was the year of the introduction of true synthetics, he said. Nylon, orlon, dacron and combinations of them with cotton and wool give the modern woman a wide range in choosing her fabrics. In addition to variations in fabric itself, the dyeing and finishing process has been developed to such an extent that completely new textures and finishes are given to each.

Eleven companies produce nylon in this country.

Advantages
Synthetic fabrics have many advantages. Most important is uniformity, both of quality and price. Ascentic qualities are many, and include such factors as permanent pleats, crinkle designs, polishes, and variety weaves. In addition, durability plays an important role.

Each synthetic has different qualities. Rutledge told his listeners. Nylon has the greatest break and tear resistance. It is probably, however, most affected by

Pierrot Is the Title of the decorative laminate mosaic panel executed by Mr. and Mrs. Chris Borggren. The main figure is suggestive of a character in old French pantomime who wore white pantaloons, a large white jacket with big buttons and often had his face painted white. Another connotation of the title is that of buffoon. In the panel the tie under the chin indicates a mask and the background, with its decorative lamp and banners, a carnival atmosphere. The design was created by Borggren and worked out by Mrs. Borggren.

Colorful Art Glass Sought by Collectors

Art glass which does not really 1900s which was popular in Victorian times, but is sought by collectors of the 1960s, is likely to be seen on the shelves of antique dealers once again. The collection of this colored item began in 1960 when a Chinese vase of the Tang period was copied by two glass workers. It was called Peach Blow, a satiny vase that shaded from rose-red to pale yellow over a white lining. One of these vases could cost a small fortune today. However, there is a hitch—namely that the glass does not meet the 1830 antique date set by the government. It therefore is not classified as antique, although many dealers specialize in it. Included in the fair exhibit is amberina glass, running from amber to a deep red. Other types of art glass are spangled glass flecked with color in spatter effect; agata, a mottled glass; Vasa Murina and the Nicholas Lutz glass. Glass in the Spanish lace design along with the cameo vases made of opalescent cranberry or vase-

New Materials Update Old Art Form

Plastic Scraps, Special Filler Used in Mosaics

BY JEAN OTTO
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
Originality is still the key. In the art world this does not necessarily mean a complete departure from the tried and proved. It may be simply an old art made new by the adaptation of modern materials.

A new look in mosaics is the result of ingenuity and combined efforts on the parts of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Borggren, 836 E. Hancock St. Borggren, artist, architect and teacher of oil painting, went home to lunch one day last January with a handful of laminated plastic scraps and the germ of an idea.

After much discussion Mrs. Borggren, who had never done any kind of art work, asked her husband to draw a design. The first work was sketched on a wooden plate. With very little color choice, Mrs. Borggren began to fill in a flower pattern. She cut the hard plastic with shear cutters, sanding each piece as she went along, so that it would fit into the outline.

Experiment for Filler

When the plate was completed the Borggrens looked for a good grout, material to fill the spaces between the tiles. Finding none that suited them, they experimented with different formulas until they devised one which had the hardness and cohesion they felt necessary to make a finished work stand up long and which still could be controlled during filling.

After the plate was filled, it was buffed and polished to satiny smoothness. Next, Borggren began a larger panel with a more complicated design. Mrs. Borggren too undertook a more difficult work. As they worked they learned to handle their medium. They also determined which designs lent themselves best to this type of work.

The first mosaic to be shown was added to an exhibit of oil paintings hung by Borggren at an Appleton supper club. Two more were placed in the lounge of the Conway Hotel when Borggren began a permanent rotating exhibit of his work there.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Borggren are shown in the workroom of their home at 836 E. Hancock St. They are working on an abstract design which features a woman's head. In the background is the plan for their next work—a pair of oriental dancers. The use of laminated plastic is an innovation in the ancient art of mosaic. The pair has also invented a new grout.

produced in sheet form for table and counter tops. The core material is kraft impregnated with phenolic resin. Two surface sheets are applied, the first layer being the decorative unit, the second, a transparent overlay of alpha-cellulose impregnated with melamine resin. This material imparts to the surface qualities of heat and abrasion resistance. Sheets are molded under high temperature and pressure. Under this condition the resins flow and surround the fibers. They then set up and become solid so that further heat will not cause them to become liquid again. This 300 degree Fahrenheit temperature and 1000 pounds per square inch pressure produces what is called thermo-setting plastic.

The Borggrens had nothing specific in mind when they took examples of their work to Wisconsin Rapids other than showing what they had done with the product and possibly obtaining a wider selection of colors with which to work. The enthusiasm with which executives in the art and advertising departments received their work left the couple with feelings of pride and accomplishment.

The Consoweld people were astonished that the Borggrens had been able to cut the plastic into small pieces with the precision necessary to create an artistic effect. They not only would be happy to supply the couple with the amount and colors of material they wanted but also asked them to make a large demonstration panel which would clearly show the quality of their work.

They also expressed an interest in having small samples that their salesmen could carry in briefcases. They asked permission to take colored pictures of the panels to be used in national advertising. And they asked questions.

Other Possibilities

The conversation brought out other possibilities for uses of the ways in which the Borggrens' ideas can be put to use are just beginning to be explored. In the meantime the couple continues to experiment with color and design. It's impossible to know just what direction or momentum the results of the couple's modern approach to this ancient art will take. Whatever it may be, they'll be ready.

Nine State Colleges Want More Volumes

Holdings Fall Short Of Library Group's Minimum Standards

A doubling in the amount of tax money spent per student to purchase library books has been proposed for the nine Wisconsin State Colleges.

Increasing the appropriation from $10 to $20 per student per year would permit the securing of 63,000 additional volumes for each of the next two years.

Increased enrollments and inability to secure sufficient funds in the past have been blamed for the Wisconsin State College libraries falling below the minimum number of volumes standard set by the American Library Association.

Eugene R. McPhee, director of the state colleges, said current book holdings — which include bound periodicals but not text books — totaled 513,318 in the system. Individual college totals ranged from 45,285 at River Falls to 66,000 at Superior.

The American Library Association suggests at least 50,000 volumes for a school of up to 600 students and 10,000 volumes for each additional 200 students. Enrollments at the State Colleges range from 1,350 to about 2,300. Hence, added McPhee, the book holdings in the system should be doubled if the ALA standards are to be approached.

Lowly Coyote Menaces Hills Of Hollywood

Residents Claim
Predator Snacking
On Household Pets

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Lo the lowly coyote, howling in the hills a buckshot blast from Hollywood and Vine.

Howls are also coming from residents of the brush-covered slopes above Hollywood, who claim the predators are snacking on household pets. Reported casualties: eight cats, an undischarged number of ducks and guinea pigs.

One woman said she had to flush a coyote from her patio, other residents complained of the animals strolling across their lawns. A dozen women on Tiger-tail Road staged a protest meeting and petitioned City Council for help.

Joining the anti-coyote forces was Dick Powell, who said that the varmints practically drove him from his Mandeville Canyon ranch to the settled confines of Beverly Hills.

Opinions Differ

"There were millions of them up where we lived," he complained. "They killed several of our sheep and some calves. We could hardly sleep at night. They'd get together and cackle like a convention of women."

"They make nice music," corrected Lauritz Melchior, who occupies an aerie atop Mulholland Drive. "I have done a great deal of hunting in my life and I love the sounds of the jungle."

The influx of coyotes around populated areas has resulted from the depredations of their normal hunting grounds by brush fires and subdivisions. The area stretches from the heart of Hollywood to the sea. What can be done?

One of the handful of trappers licensed by the state says not much is possible. The trapper, who declined to be identified, said the coyotes could only be poisoned by baiting when they claim more pets and children than coyotes.

The other method would be iron traps, also risky in populated areas. "I wouldn't be interested in the job," he said. "It's too big — there's thousands of 'em up there. And there's no money in it. Northern coyote's pets can be sold — you'd be surprised how many fancy fur coats are dyed coyote. But Southern California coyotes are too mangy."

Kennedy Gains in New York Suburbs, May Carry State

Senator's Strength Lies Mainly Among Catholics, Young Voters

BY SAMUEL LUBELL
Sen. John F. Kennedy is cutting in heavily enough on the hitherto staunchly Republican suburbs around New York City to carry New York State.

In 15 precincts, which have mirrored the past voting of suburban Nassau and Westchester counties, Kennedy is picking up at least one of every five voters who went for Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1956.

The crucial nature of these losses can be seen from the fact that these two counties alone provided 35 per cent of the total plurality by which Eisenhower won New York State in 1952 and 23 per cent of his 1956 plurality.

Only once, in 1868, have the Republicans been able to win the White House without New York's electoral votes.

If Richard Nixon is to carry the state he would offset these suburban losses by cracking the

seem likely — or by rolling up near-record pluralities in upstate rural areas and smaller cities.

Illinois, Ohio, Too

My interviews show similar Kennedy gains in the suburbs around Chicago and Cleveland, which means that Nixon also faces a hard fight in those two industrial states, Illinois and Ohio.

Perhaps the most striking single aspect of the Kennedy surge in the New York suburbs — and this also holds for the commuter country around Chicago and Cleveland — is that it is concentrated primarily among Catholic voters.

Among the non-Catholic Eisenhower voters interviewed in Nassau and Westchester counties, only six per cent are shifting to Kennedy.

Among Catholics 36 per cent are shifting.

This shift is being accompanied by a deep emotional conflict which has left every seventh suburban voter still undecided.

May Switch Back

"If only Nixon were a Catholic!" exclaimed one 55-year-old engineer in East Meadow, Long Island. "He's the better man on foreign policy. But I'm a Catholic and it's not right that all men shouldn't have an equal chance to be President."

In West Hempstead an accountant said, "I like Kennedy but I'm uneasy at his labor support."

Quite a number of voters remarked, "I'd go for Kennedy if he'd only stop talking about Franklin Roosevelt. It was Roosevelt who sold us out at Yalta."

So strong is the pull of Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge on foreign policy that many of these Catholic suburbanites still may switch back to Nixon.

Debate Has Effect

"I was for Kennedy until the second TV debate," explained a Westchester housewife. "But I don't think we should let the Communists take those China islands. Like Nixon said, it's the principle of the thing. You have to draw a line somewhere."

Some of the shifting to Kennedy reflects economic dissatisfaction. One truck driver, whose company had just gone broke, complained, "The Republicans cut down too much in circulation to keep people working."

Others echo the feeling of an insurance broker in Roslyn, Long Island, who said, "We had a similar situation in 1928. I want to break down that religion barrier."

Youth for Kennedy

By far the heaviest break to Kennedy, though, is coming among younger voters who have moved out to the suburbs in the last 10 years or who voted Democratic for president before 1952. Some of these voters say, "We've always been Democrats." Others recall that their parents belonged to Democratic clubs "back in Brooklyn."

Among those older voters who began voting for Republican presidents in 1948 or earlier, only about 10 per cent are breaking for Kennedy. But among those who went for Truman in 1948 and then swung for Eisenhower, more than half are shifting to Kennedy.

How the Eisenhower voters who are sticking with Nixon feel is reflected in such comments as:

"The Democrats want to give everything away."

"Nixon didn't let Khrushchev step on him."

"Nixon is the more conservative of the two."

"Kennedy is not ready yet."

To Your Good Health

Gonorrhea Still Prevalent, Highly Dangerous Disease

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. he sure. It was necessary to conduct bacteriological studies over a period of time, to give repeated evidence that the germ could no longer be found.

In earlier days it was a common practice in good clinics to tell patients to return for tests each week for a period ranging from perhaps six to 12 weeks, before the doctors felt warranted in saying the word cured.

Since penicillin, the picture has changed, and although penicillin treatment obviously is superior to anything we had before, the change is not entirely for the better.

Perhaps the trouble is that we all have fallen into the careless view that since the discovery of penicillin, everything is easy, and indeed, an extremely prevalent we don't have to worry about disease as compared with other gonorrhea. Well, we do!

Today, penicillin works rapidly and very well. Penicillin works so well that too many people think the disease that a case of gonorrhea was cured in the sense that every last germ had been destroyed.

However, when the patients, eradicated so quickly and inexcusably, were men, it wasn't too difficult for them to give a verdict of successful turn for several weeks of tests, cure for all practical purposes. The symptoms disappear so quickly after a moderate time. With women, the patient dismisses the disease, it was much more difficult to ease too lightly. Then when symptoms do return, doctors don't know whether it is a recurrence or a new infection.

I wish there were some way to impress on everyone that gonorrhea is a dangerous disease. The proof is in the statistics in any city health department. Gonorrhea remains one of the highest of all reportable diseases.

Sulfa was a wonderful medicine for gonorrhea for a time. Then the disease germs developed a strain which resisted the drug and they suddenly swept back in full force.

If that ever happens—if a penicillin-resistant strain evolves — penicillin will become as useless as sulfa has become for this disease. Then we will be in trouble!

This is a plea to all people: Don't use the word cured too lightly; don't risk gonorrhea casually because, at the moment, there is an easy cure. Avoid the disease like the plague.

Eats Honey
"Dear Dr. Molner: My uncle eats honey every day and says it gives him a lot of pep. I am a sophomore in high school and was wondering if I ate some every day, would I have a lot of pep?" G.G."

I wouldn't for the world interfere with your uncle's pet theory, but any other food with equal calories and sugar content should give him as much pep. If you're in doubt, why don't you try it? Unless you're fat, a little honey every day certainly won't hurt you.

U. S. Films Made Abroad

Foreign Lands Offer Attractive Inducements to Movie Companies

BY BOB THOMAS AP Movie-TV Writer HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—"Suddenly, Last Summer" was a Tennessee Williams saga of sex and sin in the deep American South. So where was it filmed? England. This oddity is explained by film industry bigwig: "Here was a story about America with American actors, which should have been filmed here. It probably would have been a better picture if it had, better in atmosphere and bit players. But it was filmed in England and Sam Spiegel probably made a million dollars more than he would have, because of the Eady plan." American companies today are shooting six features in England, largely because of the Eady plan (named for the British politician who dreamed it up). Here's how it works: The British government places a tax on the returns from all theaters. From this fund, the government grants a rebate to producers who make films in England with native Spain. Thus the firms can get their funds out of Spain in dollar talent. The English-made picture is returns from the box-office realso assured unlimited playing cepts in the United States. Sea Adventures End for Two Groups of Boys PINELLAS PARK, Fla. (AP)—Two teen-age adventurers who set out in a 14-foot boat "to see what the world looks like" didn't get very far. The Coast Guard located Jimmy Harmon, 14, and Walter P. Fuller, 13, at the mouth of Tampa Bay about 20 miles south of their port of departure. They were returned home. Sheriff's deputies said the boys sneaked off Monday and put to sea with enough provisions to last a month. A school chum later gave their parents a note saying they were "not mad at anyone," but wanted to see the world. Dreams of adventure also ended for a trio of young California adventurers. The three, Larry Reitz, 14, Mike Masser, 14, and Nick Brisseau, 15, all of Newport Beach, set sail Saturday in a 30-foot ketch. Navy pilots sighted the ketch Tuesday off the Mexican coast. A Coast Guard cutter was dispatched to intercept it.

Oil Companies Aid Income by Diversification

Land Development,
Food Processing
Among New Fields

BY SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Many in the oil business are finding the grass looking greener on the other side of the fence. Oil producers of varying sizes are turning to other fields to add to income or to offset some of the problems in their own industry.

At home, the problems are an oversupply of crude and oil products, price weakness and im ports. Abroad they include growing competition, unrest among Mideast oil producing nations and market raiding by the price cutting Soviet Union.

Major oil producers long since have established themselves in petrochemicals, shipping and pipelines and the like.

New Fields

Now oil firms are branching out into such fields as land develop ment, electronics, boating, books, food processing, variety stores, missiles and banking.

Sunset International Petroleum, Los Angeles, has a $75 million 4,000-acre tract in San Diego, and plans a billion-dollar development on 12,000 acres in the Sacramento area.

Standard Oil of California has a 24-acre development near Long Beach, California, and through its Huntington Beach Development Co. has opened a motel, trailer park and restaurant.

Hydrocarbons Inc., Specialists in the secondary recovery of oil and gas, has the $36 million Berkley Shores Estates in New Jersey.

Food Processing

Diversa, Inc., of Dallas, Tex., originally an oil and gas and drilling company, has 90 per cent of DiversaCal Properties and 83 per cent of Simi Valley Develop ment Co., both land projects near Los Angeles.

In the last year it has branched out into other fields, acquiring United Petroleum Gas, Minneapolis, Minn., marketer of liquefied petroleum gas and natural gas; Rich Plan Corp., Dallas, Tex., dis tributor of Carrier home freezers and Rich Plan frozen foods; 88, per cent of Chicago City Bank & Trust; and 90 per cent of Texas Electronic Products.

Travel Guides

Hunt Oil Co. also has gone into the food processing business. Ada Oil Co. now has a chain of variety stores in southeastern Texas.

Oil equipment and services firms also are widely diversified. An early one was the Hughes Tool Co. which branched out into air transportation through Trans World Airlines, movie production, aircraft and electronics.

Socony Mobil is selling travel guides at its stations in league with Simon & Schuster.

But sometimes diversification backfires. One of the biggest oil firms stocked toys and seeds and sherry in its stations until local business complained of the competition.

Terrors Prime Their Defense to Stop Nussbaum Aerials

Heselton Tells Quarterback Club Of Heavy Odds Against Vikes

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Jack Nussbaum, Al Esther and Jon Brown are the three players Appleton High school must stop Saturday if it hopes to end Fond du Lac's unbeaten football status, a member of the Terror coaching staff said Tuesday night.

Herdie McCrary, Jr., AHS coaching aide who spoke to the Appleton Quarterback club in the illness-caused absence of Headmaster Ade Dillon, said the Terrors are working on defenses against the Nussbaum-Esther-Brown aerial act.

In beating Green Bay East last week, Fond du Lac used only simple pass patterns, said McCrary, but Nussbaum — whom the coach classified as the Fox River Valley Conference's finest passer — unerringly hit his target. Ends Esther and Brown just ran away from the defender once they caught the ball, avowed McCrary.

"If we play heads-up ball, though, we have a good chance to win," said McCrary.

Coach Bernie Heselton took time off from preparing his Lawrence College team for an equally grueling assignment to tell the QB Club: "We'll do the best we can Saturday (in the Ripon game) but it will be against strong odds."

Fondy's offense isn't the only thing to be reckoned with, according to McCrary. "Scoring against Fond du Lac won't be easy," he declared.

The coach classified the Cardinals as being as strong as—or even stronger than—the two teams they caught the ball, avowed McCrary.

49ers' Attack Is Puzzle to Bays' Coaches

Different Offenses Used by 'Frisco in All Three Games

GREEN BAY (AP) — Coach Vince Lombardi's Green Bay Packers worked on the solution to the San Francisco 49er puzzle Tuesday, hunting for the victory clue needed in Sunday's contest.

Lombardi and other members of his staff, including defensive Coach Phil Bengtson who spent eight years as an assistant coach with the 49ers before joining Green Bay this year, spent an entire day with 49er movies before lining things up for the Packers.

"San Francisco is a hard team to figure," Bengtson said. "We have reports for three games and a different offense was used each time."

Polish Passing

The Packers, who drew a bye last weekend, spent most of the Tuesday drill polishing their passing attack, an aspect of Green Bay's design for offense Lombardi described as ragged, and in sharp contrast to the success of the ground game.

In the running attack, the Packers lead the league in yards gained with Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung setting the pace.

The meeting with San Francisco at Milwaukee County Stadium on Sunday will be the 19th between the two teams. The 49ers have won 13 and Green Bay five, and the series has been without a tie. Last season Green Bay took both games against San Francisco, in the Packer stadium by a score of 21-20 and on the West Coast with a 36-14 final tally.

And the 49ers, to remain in contention this season, will have to make the contest a winner with their present 2-2 record.

White Sox Sign Wayne Kroll, Oshkosh Captain

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox today announced the signing of a pair of right handed pitchers from Wisconsin.

The two are Dwight Scholz of Ellsworth and Wayne Kroll of Cecil. Scholz, 19, attended River Falls College and Kroll, 20, was captain of the Oshkosh college baseball team.

Both were signed to 1961 contracts with Clinton, Iowa, of the Class D Midwest League.

NOTES and NOTIONS

One of the intriguing side dramas of the 1960 renewal of the always-volatile Lawrence-Ripon football series is the collegiate re-alignment of a sextet of one-time Neenah High School stalwarts. Back in 1956 and 1957, tackle Jim Miller, halfback Dave Thomsen, halfback Ed Meyer, guard Mel Bayer, quarterback Marv Carlson and end Bill Meyer worked handsomely together in the interests of a common cause: two undefeated-untied Rocket football seasons. With the start of their collegiate careers, their loyalties became divided. Ed Meyer, Bill Meyer, Carlson and Miller are giving their all for the Ripon Redmen. Thomsen, Bill Meyer and Bayer now are important cogs in the Vikings' football machine. For 60 minutes of playing time Saturday, former friendships will be put aside as each of the trios tries to help its team win the "big one." For Carlson and Thomsen, this will be the first Ripon-Lawrence clash. Carlson, who played at Oshkosh State as a freshman, has just become eligible for Midwest Conference football after transferring. Thomsen had to pass up his sophomore year at Lawrence because of an injury.

Four of the six gridders were both ways all-Mid-Eastern Conference selections in 1957: Miller, Bill Meyer, Thomsen and Ed Meyer. Miller also earned offensive defensive all-conference citation in '56, while Thomsen made the M-E all-star squad on the defensive platoon as a junior.

The University of Wisconsin's Tom Wiesner looks more like a pro (NFL or AFL) prospect every game. The pros like hard-running backs who can also catch a pass. In his last two games, Wiesner has been a crackjack receiver. One of the reasons Sheboygan's Dick Posewitz failed to stick with the Packers—so the story goes—was his inability to hang onto the ball consistently.

Wisconsin's decision to stick to the ground in the last three minutes of that spectacular game with Iowa has given grandstand quarterbacks plenty to talk about. You'll remember that the Badgers, fresh from scoring two comeback touchdowns, gained possession on their own 37 with the score 21-all. Instead of using the UW's formidable aerial weapon in a quest for the tie-breaking score, Coach Milt Bruhn decided to play it close to the vest. After three unproductive rushes, the Badgers had to punt—and Iowa roared back for the winning TD. Like most fans, my first disappointing impression was that the Badgers were content to go for a tie. Later on, when the extent of the injuries to quarterbacks Ron Miller and Jim Bakken became apparent, my reaction changed. With Bakken knocked out of action and Miller operating on a wobbly ankle, Bruhn probably felt that there was too much of a chance for an interception and decided to play it safe. That, I would hope, is the logical explanation, because I don't believe in this business of playing for a tie—especially with that much time left. At the moment in question, the UW had the momentum to continue scoring. With a sound quarterback, a pass play might have clicked

Neenah Senior Now Third in Pass-Receiving

MADISON (AP)—In the sophomore-studded pack of Badgers fighting Wisconsin's football wars this season, a battle-tested senior still is showing the youngsters what it takes to be a fullback.

A steady performer for Coach Milt Bruhn's forces since 1958, Co. Capt. Tom Wiesner this week bobbed to the top of the roster himself as the Badgers' third best pass catcher.

The positions attest to the versatility of the 6 foot, 206 pound veteran from Neenah.

From his fullback position Wiesner who doubled as a heavy-weight boxer at Wisconsin in 1958-9, has punched through opposing

It goes without saying that they won't be rooting for their old school.

Art Guepe is head football coach and athletic director of Vanderbilt and his twin brother, Al, is an assistant coach. Art was a quarterback of the great 1936 Marquette team that went to the Cotton Bowl, and Al was a halfback with the Warriors at the time.

Lost 20 Men

Vanderbilt lost 20 lettermen through graduation this year and lost its first four starts, to Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Florida. The Commodores are expected to give Marquette plenty of trouble, however, and have in Cody Binkley, a 6-2 207 pound tackle, one of the best defensive linemen in the Southeastern Conference.

Binkley has blocked four kicks for extra points this year.

Saturday's Game
Two Rivers at Neenah

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

NEENAH—Kaukauna visits New London Friday night in search of its sixth straight victory, its fifth in Mid Eastern Conference play.

A win coupled with a Neenah loss to Two Rivers would assure the Ghosts of a share of the town.

Kimberly travels to Shawano, and Clintonville is at Menasha in other Friday night contests.

The Rocket Rader encounter will be played Saturday afternoon at Neenah.

At New London the Ghosts will run into a Bulldog team which is experiencing its best season in a number of years. It has a 1-1-2 record and the two losses have been by a composite eight points.

Sterling Defense

Kaukauna's sterling defense has held its last three opponents scoreless while at the same time the offense has accounted for 51 points. New London has the fourth best defensive record in the circuit and none of its opponents have made more than two touchdowns. The Ghosts collected a 22-6 win last fall.

Neenah's hopes of remaining in title contention hinge on a win over Two Rivers. The Rockets run into a Rader squad which, after two straight wins, has been set down twice.

The Rockets have two links in their current win chain and rate as the only team, besides Kaukauna, with serious championship aspirations. Neenah has a big first half in trouncing Kimberly two weeks ago but at Clintonville last Saturday, concentrated all of its scoring in the last two periods.

Last year's Rader team dropped a 20-0 decision to the Rockets.

Club Is Expected To Oust Weiss Because of Age

NEW YORK (AP) — Informed baseball men were ready to lay odds today that Ralph Houk, New York coach for the past three years, will succeed Casey Stengel as manager of the Yankees in 1961.

Stengel, who brought the Yankees 10 pennants and seven world championships in a 12 year tenure was let out Tuesday because he was 70 years old. Houk is 41.

Houk, a former catcher with the Yankees, who returned to the organization after serving a term as manager of the Denver club of the American Association, is expected to be introduced in his new capacity during a press conference Thursday.

It will come as no surprise to anyone if, at the same time, Yankee President Dan Topping announces George M. Weiss' resignation as general manager. Topping, co-owner of the club along with Vice President Del Webb, has taken a more active part in the club's operations in recent months.

To Be Retained

Unlike Stengel, who will completely sever his connections with the club when his two-year contract expires Oct. 31, the 65-year-old Weiss will be retained in an advisory capacity. Weiss' contract still has several years to run.

Roy Hamey, 58, at president assistant general manager, probably will be named to succeed Weiss. Also moving into the front office would be Jack White, the present general manager of the Richmond farm in the International League, and Arthur (Red) Patterson, currently publicity director of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Bob Finkel, the club's able public relations director and a big favorite with newspapermen, will remain Patterson's predecessor with the Yankees, will assist White, who has been tabbed as the future big boss of the Yankees. Hamey's contract has another year to run.

Stengel bowed out and Weiss will follow because Topping and Webb agreed "there should be an age limit." In the future the club will not employ a manager after he's 65.

Stengel, chagrined and bitter over his dismissal, intimated he would be amenable to an offer to manage elsewhere.

"My wife, Edna," he said "would like me to get some money some place."

Stengel will get plenty of money when he officially leaves the Yankees at the end of this month. Besides his estimated $60,000 salary Tuesday but was unable to say how much he will receive a bonus or do any throwing, the spokesman $160,000 as his share of the club's profit-sharing plan.

Layne hurt the thumb Sunday as the Steelers upended the St. Louis Cardinals 27-14 in a National Football League tussle here.

Casey Stengel tells newsmen in New York Tuesday that he has been fired as manager of the New York Yankees.

Stengel, 70, who won ten American League pennants in 12 years, was told his services were no longer required because of his age.

"I'd want to come back," he said. "I would have asked to be changed. With a new group in the front office I'd want to know who would be in control and how much authority I would have."

"I'd want to be the one who would tell the players what to do and how to do it, not have them

"Webb has been letting Topping conference's second ranking scoring the club," Stengel said. "Topping told me, and Webb agreed, football manship. Mike Nelson and that he's trying to rebuild the club Dave Huebner will share the sign and he wants to do it now while not calling duties. After a 6-all the club's still in the race."

Stengel, asked whether he would rolled to a 46-6 win be interested in managing the Shawano and Kimberly will at San Francisco Giants, winked and tempt to move up at each other's request. "I am not yet ready to expense. Both are all but madly think about another job I haven't matically eliminated from title made up my mind yet regarding consideration Shawano scored a 13-9 win last fall."

Kimberly Clerk Explains Rules For Election

Confusion Exists on Pre-Registration of Voters From Village

KIMBERLY — Due either to strangers moving into the village or confusion as a result of the 1960 census which put Kimberly over the 5,000 population mark, residents seem determined to register for voting, according to Mrs. Katherine Lochschmidt, clerk-treasurer.

Pre-registration of voters for the November election is not necessary this year, according to Mrs. Lochschmidt. Persons are registered at the voting station when they appear to vote. Tally clerks are on hand and secure names and addresses of voters before a person steps to the voting machine.

Absentee Ballots

Absentee ballots are now available from the clerk. Persons who are incapacitated, who will be out of the village on election day or who feel there is a good possibility they will not be able to make it to the polls are entitled to use absentee ballots, indicated the clerk.

Absentee ballots may be secured from the clerk any time through the Saturday before election. Mrs. Lochschmidt indicated 18 persons have already picked up absentee ballots.

Anticipating a heavy turnout for this presidential election, the village board voted at its last session to use the recreation room in the village hall as a voting station rather than the board meeting rooms as has been the policy in previous years. Voting hours will be from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

County College Head Resigns

S. W. Ihlenfeldt Will Assume Presidency of Marinette School

KAUKAUNA — S. W. Ihlenfeldt, president of Outagamie County Teachers College, has notified the County Teachers College Board he will leave Nov. 1 to accept a position as president of Marinette County College.

Ihlenfeldt came to Kaukauna in 1950 after having served as Superintendent of Schools for Forest County. After 1-year of teaching at the local college, he assumed the duties of president.

In his new capacity, Ihlenfeldt will be responsible for a school approximately twice the size of the Outagamie College.

The president handles both presidential and teaching chores at the college. He is active in community affairs and has served as secretary and editor for the Kaukauna Rotary Club for the last nine years.

County board members will meet next week to interview possible successors.

Boy Scout Fund Campaign to Open Thursday in Kimberly

KIMBERLY — The Valley Council Boy Scout fund drive will open Thursday in the village under the direction of H. W. Pierce, Jr., director of H. W. Pierce, Jr., Kimberly Mill Manager. Goal this year is $1,000, an increase of 25 per cent over the $800 collected in the 1959 effort.

The drive will continue through Oct. 30. Reason for the increased cost of operation is an increase in the number of boys joining the Boy Scout ranks. The Valley Council serves a five and one-half county area and has over 3,200 registered Scouts and more than 1,100 adult leaders.

Local Workers

Cost of supporting one Boy Scout for a year is approximately $14. An executive board of 48 men, representing almost every community in the Council, prepares Fund Raising Letters to aid in building an estimated $200,000 addition to the Kaukauna Community Hospital were mailed this week to various industries, business places and organizations in the area. Others from left are Mrs. Berenice Elliott, hospital administrator; James Bamberg and Norbert Gerend.

Council Takes School Budget Under Study

Steps Taken to Help Set Up Program of Public Works Projects for Coming Year

KAUKAUNA — The Common Council Tuesday night heard the request of the Board of Education for $411,294 on the tax levy in 1961 to help meet the total budget of $599,565.

The levy request is $33,021 higher than that asked in 1960 and will represent an increase of about $1.50 per $1,000 on the tax rate. The Council referred the budget to the finance committee for study and inclusion in the total 1961 city budget.

In line with work on the coming budget, Council members authorized the hiring of an engineer to work with the city engineer to determine a close approximation of the amount of money to be appropriated for storm and sanitary sewer projects next year. The Board of Public Works has had difficulty trying to establish a works' budget as sewer projects were not complete.

A recommendation for storm sewers for Boyd Avenue, Orchard Drive, and Eden Avenue this year was referred to the finance committee after Bert Roberts, committee chairman, indicated money was not available this year and these should be included in the 1961 budget.

Another budget item referred to the finance unit was the recommendation by Mayor Joseph Baygeon, the city purchase some spraying equipment to help control the mosquitoes and other summer insects.

Purchase Equipment

Council members voted to advertise for bids for sewer cleaning equipment, specifications to be prepared by the city engineer. At the recommendation of the engineer, sand bids for use on city streets were rejected and the engineer was authorized to secure written proposals for supplying sand.

Aldermen approved purchase of the Henry Grissman property for $3,900 and gave Grissman 40 days in which to move the house from the site. The property was purchased to permit extension of W. Eighth Street. It is hoped street extension can be completed before winter.

Purchase of a check writing machine was approved and a request for a 4 per cent wage hike by police and fire personnel and longevity pay was referred to the finance committee.

Emmett Rohan, city attorney, presented the city with an opinion against returning license fee money to a tavern owner who secured a license, but later sold the tavern. Rohan indicated the state to the hall after 4 p.m. Thursday or in case of pick-up from the home are to call Mrs. Gert Tuttle.

Social Security

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. I am a farmer and eligible for Social Security. I own and operate a farm. My average income is over $1200 per year, but during the months of November, December, January, February, and March I am not actively engaged in farming and have no income during these months. Am I entitled to Social Security during these three months when I have no income?

A. Even though their net earnings exceed $1200 in a year, self-employed persons may draw their benefits for the months in which they do not render any substantial services in connection with their farm, or other trade or business. For farmers, making needed repairs or tending livestock would be considered rendering substantial services, thereby preventing them from drawing benefits in those months, even though they might not have any income in those months.

Q. My wife and I have been getting our benefits in a single check with both of our names on it. Because of her poor health, we are closing our home and she is going to live with our daughter and I am going to live with our son, in different towns. Can our benefits be sent separately?

A. If you will send us a statement (over your signature) telling us that you want them separate and where to send them, we will mail your future checks separately and to your new addresses.

The Social Security Administration office is in Outagamie County Courthouse annex, 401 S. Elm St., Appleton.

Architect Named for Village High School

Board of Education at Kimberly Prepares For Building Program to Start in 1962

KIMBERLY — After weeks of working with the board to make the Kimberly Board of Education selected Sauter and Seashore, Appleton, as architects for the new high school building. J. R. Gerrits, superintendent of schools, said.

Twenty-six architects representing firms from Wisconsin, Michigan and Illinois showed interest in the high school project. All visited the village were briefed on the educational needs required for the school and shown the new site.

Board members, meanwhile, studied qualifications, personnel and experience of the architects. Nine were called in for a second interview and board members gave each an hour to state their qualifications and plans prior to making a final decision.

Tiny Padlocks That Work Prizes for Puzzle Contest

BY CAPPY DICK

Boys and girls! Here's a chance to win a padlock so tiny you can hide it under your thumb!

Midget padlocks, each equipped with a set of two keys, will be awarded as the prizes in today's puzzle contest. These padlocks are practical, even though they are probably smaller than you have ever seen before. They may be used to lock a bank or treasure chest, may be attached to a dog collar or may be worn as a charm. There are many ways in which they can be put to good use.

Brain Twisters

BY DON DOUGLAS

One or the Other

For each one of the famous sayings in this list, there is an other famous saying which means exactly the opposite. Can you supply these opposite sayings?

- Two heads are better than one.
- Look before you leap.
- A rolling stone gathers no moss.
- Two is company, three is a crowd.
- Absence makes the heart grow fonder.
- Your face tells what you are.
- Waste not, want not.
- Fools rush in where angels fear to tread.

Answers

- Too many cooks spoil the broth.
- He who hesitates is lost.
- A roving bee gathers honey.
- The more the merrier.
- Out of sight, out of mind.
- Looks are deceiving.
- Eat, drink, and be merry, for tomorrow you die.
- Nothing venture, nothing have.

of letters printed on a blackboard.

If you use your paints, crayons or pencil to black out two letters of each group you will leave letters that spell a number.

To illustrate, if you black out the B and the F in one group you will leave a number.

When you have blacked out the proper letters in all four groups, clip the picture out and paste it on a sheet of paper or a postal card. Beneath it print your name, age and address. Add any decorations you believe will make your entry outstandingly neat and attractive.

The final step is to address your entry to Cappy Dick at the Post-Crescent and mail it before Friday midnight.

Subdivisions May Add 310 Sherwood Families

John Stumpf Platting Two Hillside Areas To Increase Village Size by 87 Acres

SHERWOOD — Work is under way to expand the area of this village by 87 acres and increase its population by a potential of perhaps 310 families.

The keys to the expansion are two subdivisions being prepared by John W. Stumpf, one of the village's most loyal supporters. Although a native of Darby, one of his greatest pleasures is to take visitors up into the ledges west of the hilltop village and point out the sweep of scenery and then hurry them across the gentle valley to his home's scenic location to display the view.

Fire Board Starts Survey Of Appleton

Periodic Check Not Brought About by Nitzband Fire

The National Board of Fire Underwriters began a two week survey of Appleton today to determine the status of the city in relation to fire prevention and hazards.

A report by the inspection team will be ready in about three months, and will be sent to the Fire Insurance Rating Bureau in Milwaukee.

Mayor Clarence Mitchell said today the survey was not brought about by the tragic Nitzband fire of last Friday.

The letter notifying the survey would be made was written Friday, the day of the Nitzband fire, and was received in my office Monday.

Insurance Rating

The board of fire underwriters usually makes a survey every 10 years, but because of Appleton's rapid growth it decided to make a new survey after seven years. The last survey was in 1953, the mayor said.

The insurance rating bureau could change the classification of the city for insurance purposes on the basis of the survey report. A change in rating would affect insurance premiums.

The inspection team is headed by George G. Stahl, assistant chief engineer from the Board's Chicago office.

Included in the survey will be the fire department, water department, fire alarm system, city building code in relation to fire prevention and the structural condition of buildings, especially in the business district.

The survey costs the city nothing.

Miss Lucille Haas, Kaukauna is chairman of the hostess committee.

Alvin C. Braun Dies at Home

Retired in August After 30 Years as Area Weather Man

Alvin C. Braun, who retired Aug. 1 from Wisconsin Division of Power to enter more than 30 years as the Fox Cities' official weatherman, died at his home at 1331 W. Rogers Ave. at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday after a short illness.

He was this area's major source of weather information and over the years provided the Post-Crescent with facts and figures concerning meteorological happenings as well as offering a monthly analysis of area weather conditions.

As an engineer, Braun played a major role in developing the power company's hydrological and weather observation programs.

Braun was born in Milwaukee July 15, 1895, and was a World War I veteran. He joined the power company in August, 1922, as a gas engineer. He was transferred to the power plant in 1926 and to the engineering department in 1932.

Surviving are the widow, two sons, a brother, two sisters and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Friday at the Wichmann Funeral Home, with the Rev. H. Shelby Lee of First Congregational Church, in charge. Burial will be in Highland Memorial Park.

Singler, Shiocton, candidate for Stange attacked Lorge's voting congress, and Kelland Lathrop, record and charged that the in- route 2, Hortonville, candidate cum- bent senator has "ducked for the Second District assembly seat. Lathrop left the meeting and dodged issues."

He said Wisconsin already has a sales tax—on beer, liquor and cigarettes—that provides for 13.7 per cent of state revenue, and added that income tax accounts for 14.9 per cent of the revenue and the property tax for 50.7 per cent.

Stange said Wisconsin needs a tax on banks. He declared Gov. Nelson tried to take the conservation depart- ment out of politics and blasted the program set forth by GOP candidate for governor, Philip Kuehn, as a plan for "a rich man's rod and gun club."

Stange charged that Lorge vot- ed "no" on a consumer council to control interest rates, a provision for a 30-bed mental hospital, the secrecy in government bill when it was in committee, and a proposed resort usage study pro- gram.

Ira Dominowski, Hortonville police chief and candidate for sheriff, said he favors a juvenile aid officer in the sheriff's department because "there is a juvenile problem according to the present administrations own figures."

Bliss Speaks He said a unified sheriff's of- fice, joining the sheriff's office and the county traffic patrol, would save at least $1,500 simply by getting rid of one of the two committees that set policy for the units. He said the meetings cost the taxpayers $120 a month — $15 for each of the committee members per meeting.

Appleton Atty. David Bliss, candidate for First District as- semblyman, said attendance at the meeting and the absence of Republican candidates was "a sad reflection on the state of af- fairs." He charged that GOP can- didates did not come because they didn't think they had to win because they felt they would win the election anyway.

Bliss also spoke briefly on re- gional planning for the area from Green Bay to Oshkosh or Fond du Lac. Lester Balliet, county Demo-
